CHAIN OF COMMAND

provide us with an example to follow. We can only learn from those who have gone before us, emulate their triumphs and discourage their mistakes. From the Commander-In-Chief to squad leader, chain-of-command is the most important concept to learn.

FACULTY

supports the Brigade in all Academic areas. With the variety of subjects midshipmen are required to take, the faculty must be just as diverse. With each his own teaching style, midshipmen appreciate the calibre of professors. The faculty changes from time to time, but the quality remains the same. Excellent.

BRIGADE of MIDSHIPMEN

is what characterizes the Academy. From all over the country and all over the world, midshipmen trade their secrets to learn about others. It is these secrets that make us individuals. Yet as in the past, these secrets transform us into leaders of the future.

Entering a New League

Well what can we say about NAVY football this year? We finished at 1-10. But, the team fell victim to many key injuries. The first three quarterbacks got injured early, which forced Coach Chaump to completely change the offensive strategy. As if the injuries weren't enough, we had a few bad calls, remember Air Force, which cost our team victories they had earned.

We went into the season with a new defensive coordinator, Greg McMackin, and a completely new defensive scheme which proved to work very well against our opponents after all of the bugs got worked out. Even through all of the setbacks, our players never gave up that fighting NAVY spirit.

The culmination to the season was the annual Navy-Army duel. Our team DOMINATED Army from the very beginning. At one point they had amassed a 17 point lead and another Navy football victory appeared to be in the record books. But, just as with the rest of the season, Lady Luck did not shine on the Mids. After a fumble recovery late in the third quarter, Army resorted to trickery and deceptive football, because they knew that we couldn't be beat head-to-head. Unfortunately, their schemes worked out and the walls came crashing down with 12 seconds left when Cadet Patmon Malcom kicked to field goal to hand Navy a loss. Navy will be losing a fine group of first class, but is looking forward to another successful recruiting campaign. With the healthy return of many seasoned veterans we are looking forward to another successful season. BEAT ARMY!

Entering a New League

Well, what can be said about the Army-Navy football game? For the fans in the stands, and the viewers at home it was one of the best clashes ever between the two rivals. Unfortunately for us at USNA it was a terrible ending to a nightmare season. Despite all of the setbacks that we suffered early in the season, the team was ready for the big game. We knew that nothing before the Army game was significant and that the game was going to be a war.

Navy started out very well by opening a commanding 17-7 halftime lead. We increased this lead to 24-7 early in the third quarter on a long touchdown pass from Jason Van Matre to Tom Pritchard.

Army-Navy

A turn for the worse came when Navy caught a series of bad breaks and Army capitalized with a touchdown late in the third quarter. Army crawled back into the game, eventually closing the score to 24-22. With just over a minute to play, Army's kicker Patnom Malcom made a career long 49 yard field goal to lead Army to victory.

For the twenty-one seniors it was a crushing blow. We had been followed by a black cloud all year and the rain came hardest in our two biggest games, Air Force and Army. The team remained strong throughout the entire season by never quitting or giving up on each other. This commitment to never quit is what will lead Navy back to its winning ways in years to come. Beat them all!

*M*att Kirby, a 2/C from Atlanta, GA, takes the ball himself. Expected to be one of NAVy's best Quarterbacks ever, he came though leding the team to an undefeated season.

*T*he 150's offense sets up against the Salisbury State team. The Mids crushed them 44-12. The first game of the season it heralded great things to come.

Perfect for Another Year

The 150 pound football team concluded the season with a perfect 7-0 record, including a resounding 48-30 drubbing of Army in the season finale, to capture the Eastern Lightweight Football League title for yet another season. It was the 20th time we have won the title outright and have shared the championship six other times.

Navy garnered a league high eleven players on the All-ELFL first team. Leading the Mids in honors was Todd Rampey who was voted as the 1992 ELFL

150 Football

MVP. Rampey lead the league in scoring and was sixth in rushing. 1/c Rampey had also earned first team honors last year. Other repeat selections were, Matt Kirby, and Ed Peyton. Other offensive selections to the first team were: Andy Gibbons, Mike Cesta, and Mike Wimer.

First team defensive honors went to Brian Bruggeman, Steve DeMoss, James Wais, Derek Wessman, and Steve Jankowski.

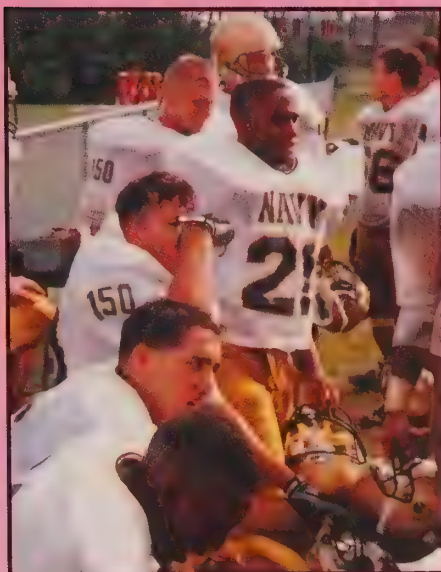

Although forced to punt it away the Mids could trust their defense to hold the other team. The defense held their opponents to a total of 87 verses their offense's 254 points.

The Lightweight Football teams celebrates after beating another opponent on their way to an incredible season.

On the sidelines, the team watches as they roll up the score to an impressive 31-0 victory against Pennsylvania. In the two games against this team Navy racked up 51 points while Penn could only squeak 6 against a powerful Navy defense.

150 Football

Navy's powerful offensive line goes into action with the hike of the ball. They protected Kirby long enough for him to throw the ball for some of the highest passing figures the 150's team has seen. The Mids will be in his talented hands again next season.

Healthy Beginnings

The Navy soccer team finished an injury riddled season with a 10-6-3, 3-3-1 record in the Patriot League, under the leadership of Coach Greg Myers. The Mids were racked all year by injuries, losing virtually all of their starters at one point. When they were able to field their starters, Navy posted a 7-1-1 record.

First Classman Jono Halverson was selected as the 1992 Patriot League Most Valuable Player and also received first team All-South recognition. 1/c Halverson, a 1991 All-Patriot League selection, had five goals and five assists in League play. Other selections to first team All-Patriot League were Cliff Carpenter, also voted second team All-South, and Seth Walters. 1/c Carpenter, a two time All-Patriot League selection became the Naval Academy's all-time assist leader for both his career (21) and a season (11). His sixty-one career points ranks him number five in school history. Walters was named first team all-league for the second straight year after scoring eight goals and three assists this year.

Tradition of Excellence

During the fall '92 season, the Navy Rugby team continued its tradition of excellence. All starters from the undefeated spring '92 squad that beat Army at West Point and won the Cherry Blossom tournament returned in the fall and began a season which would find them in Columbia, South Carolina for the Eastern Regional finals.

The ruggers started strong with a 72-0 victory at Clemson. They then went on to beat then-third-ranked Harvard in a tight match at Harvard. Navy followed these with a string of conference victories, losing only to Maryland while playing one man short. The season ended with Navy repeating as Potomac Rugby Union champions and eager to host the Mid-Atlantic Sectional finals.

Navy never broke stride on their way to their second straight Mid-Atlantic title, defeating Mary Washington and Virginia Tech by a combined score of 99-6. The next stop was Columbia, where the squad crushed Dartmouth 27-9 in the Eastern semifinals, and then saw their impressive season come to a close with a heartwrenching loss to Harvard, 19-6, in the finals. With that win, Harvard earned a berth in the National Championships in May of '93. Navy and head coach Mike Flanagan immediately began rebuilding, pulling up younger players from Navy's powerful B and C sides to replace the lost starters.

Due to their efforts and accomplishments, many players were recognized nationally. Seniors Suhaimi Sani and Max Shuman, along with junior Halsey Beshears, were selected to the U.S. Combined Services All-Star team. Additionally, seniors B.K. Lewis, Ted Burk, Vince Johnson, Chad Larges, and junior Jason Hedberg were selected to the Eastern All-Star team. Both teams had good showings in the Battle of New Orleans tournament in January, and even competed against each other twice - one victory apiece.

Rugby

Navy's strong season proved to all doubters that Navy has created a tradition of winning, and even with an almost entirely new squad, will be the East coast's team to beat on the way to the 1994 National Championships.

Wet Warriors

Navy water polo finished 7th in the 1992 NCAA National Championship tournament. The team got off to a rocky start at their first tournament, with a couple of losses in the Trident Invitational in San Diego California. Upon returning to the East they turned their game around with tough physical play. Navy's team was not expected to go far due to the loss of many key players to graduation, including the all-time leading scorer for Navy. Navy had to rely on the strength of the four All-East seniors. Reb Cobb, Jon Jensen, Jim Mills and team captain Josh Bell. The scoring void was filled by the seniors and the high scoring tandem of All-East second class Brian Wineke and youngster Doug Munz. Due to their hard work the team finished higher in the country than last year's 8th place team. The true story Navy's success was tenacious defense, led by All-East goalie second class John McCullough.

Water Polo

Navy continued its unbeaten tradition in the N-star game this year by soundly defeating Army at West Point. Following this, early in the season, Navy had a tough loss to last year's Eastern champions Slippery Rock, but rebounded quickly to defeat them two weeks later, in an exciting overtime victory in Lejeune Hall. The climax of Navy's season came in the Eastern championships semi-final matchup against top-seeded UMass. The game decided who would continue their season and represent the East coast in the National Championship. With 15 seconds left in a tie game, the ball was stolen by team captain Josh Bell, who scored the game winner as the clock ran out. Navy finished one of its most successful seasons with a 14-7 victory over the Eastern champion Princeton in the NCAA championship tournament.

Chris Fassari and Brian Nowak block a slam from the opposing team. Chris Fassari a 3/C from Buffalo, NY, and Brian Nowak a 4/C from Angola, NY were both key players in Navy's defense both posting an impressive number of blocks. (Right)

In Your Face

Men's volleyball had another successful, but difficult year. They tallied a 13-20 record which culminated in reaching the semi-finals of the Eastern Intercollegiate Volleyball Association Tournament for another year. They were eliminated by Penn State after beating St. Francis.

The season began with a bang when the men routed their first three opponents.

Men's Volleyball

But, things turned sour with a string of losses. The men's team should be commended for their determination which finally turned the losing streak into a series of victories.

1/c George Beiter was named to the All-EIVA Tournament team and an All-East first team selection. 1/C Tom Kait and Jeff Kristick were named to the All-East second team.

Tiffany Lord was also named to the Virginia Commonwealth University all-tournament team and Karen Flaherty and Katie Schullian were awarded all-tourney honors at the UMBC Classic. The Mids finished third at VCU and brought home the UMBC Classic trophy for the first time since joining Division I last year.

Navy lost to Army, 0-3. However, they set a season kill record with 1,731. Jennifer Meininger set the single season kill record with 488, as she helped power Navy to their first 20 win season in Division I and its first in three years.

Fall is a season when leaves are falling and Mids are more eager to get into the camaraderie with their fellow shipmates. There is no better way to do that than participating in the Fall Intramural sports. Disc football is a favorite among the midshipmen. Sweating on the fields surrounding the Academy, Mids carry on the tradition of competition with a frisbee.

Racquetball also is a big fan of hungry players waiting for a thrill on the courts. While still others seek the challenge of a more serious sport, squash. With smaller balls and longer raquets, Mids experience the thrill of the game.

Fall would not be fall without the intense game of soccer. The head shots and shin kicks are always the pains of a good game, but none-the-less it makes it equally exciting to watch.

Running Over the Competiton

The crowning achievement to the legacy of Navy Cross Country came this year for Coach Al Cantello and his team. Lead by a tight nucleus of five runners including: Captain Louis Molina, Sr. Todd Washburn, Jr. Jeff Leuenburger, So. Bruce Frame and All-American Sr. Greg Keller, Navy Dominated the east coast cross country scene and would ultimately leave its mark on the nation. Navy went undefeated in dual meets including impressive wins over then ranked 10th Tennessee, which vaulted them into the Div I top 20, and with relative ease, Navy defeated Army for the 6th straight year. The midshipman harriers then went on to win the prestigious Indiana Invitational with over 40 schools, oincluding five ranked in the top 20, giving Navy a 6th place national ranking.

Men's

Rounding out the season, the midshipmen did anything but coast. At the Heptagonal Championships, Navy recaptured the title lost to the Ivy League for the past few years with a vengeance, placing five runners in the top eleven. From There Navy went to the IC4A East Coast Championships and placed 3rd, giving them a bearth to the NCAA Championships inBloomington Indiana. Finally, in grand fashion, Navy proved they truly were a juggernaut program by finishing 7th, living up to their pre-race ranking, and equaling the best showing ever by a Navy Cross Country team. Individually, Greg Keller 8th, making him All-American, and in his 23rd year of coaching Navy Cross Country, Al Cantello was named region II coach of the year.

And They're Off! The Mids pair off against Rider. Luis Molina, Todd Washburn, Rich Cochrane, Jeff Scofield, Jeff Luenberger, Chris Cook and Todd Baskett start the race.

Running Through the Pack

And they're of....to Navy's sixth consecutive win over Army. Navy whopped Army 17-45 this year and with the team only losing two seniors they have an excellent chance of not only destroying Army again next year but having a repeat of this year's outstanding season.

In stride with the 2/C-Michelle "Poly-Sci Princess" Montgomery from Fredericksburg, VA and Aletha "Snapdaddy" Williams. Although Aletha did not run last year her performance this season was tremendous. Michelle's specialty is endurance and used it to help Navy to an outstanding record this season.

The Women's Cross Country team finished the season with a spotless record at 6-0 and captured the Kent State Invitational and the Maryland State Meet in the process.

1/c Kerry O'Neill had an outstanding individual season as she became the first woman to compete for the Naval Academy at Division I Nationals. She finished 91st at the NCAA Championships. Earlier in the season, she defeated Army, again, and also set a school record (18:05), as Navy shellacked Army 17-45. She finished third at the Heptagonal Championships and 16th at the ECAC Championships as the Navy team finished fourth and eighth respectively.

3/c Michelle Montgomery trailed Kerry O'Neill all season finishing second in the Navy-Army meet with a time of 18:37 which was the sixth best on the USNA course.

Althea Williams, Sarah Crouse, and Lori Kelley provided additional depth for the undefeated team.

Navy Basketball had another good season while posting an 8-19 record overall and 5-9 in Patriot League play. The highlight of the season was a two game sweep over Army 73-66 and 56-39. The season ended in the first round of the Patriot League Tournament with a heart-breaking loss to Colgate 84-80.

1/c Michael Burd, John Haase, and Chuck Robinson ended very successful careers at Navy. Burd averaged 5.6 points per game and led the Middies in three point shooting with 23-56. His best game came against Colgate when he scored a season high 19 points. Burd finished his Navy Basketball career with many mark in the Navy record books. He finished third in three pointers made (121), first in three pointers attempted (340), and seventh in three point percentage (.356). He also, along with teammate Chuck Robinson, became the 12th player in USNA history to play over 100 games.

Men's Basketball

Haase averaged 5.4 points per game and finished fourth in three pointers made (84), fourth in three pointers attempted (230), and sixth in three point percentage (.365). As team captain he was also selected to the District II Academic All-America team. Chuck Robinson led the Mids with 10.3 points and 5.1 rebounds per game.

The Mids have a lot to look forward to as they return four starters and 11 other experienced players. With Navy being led by Victor Mickel, Wes Cooper, and James Norris there should be many more victories in the near future.

Making Things Happen

The women of the 1992-93 Navy Women's Basketball Team charged into the season with an attitude of "Make Things Happen!" Their minds were focused on victory. They knew that success would only come through hard work and constant self-improvement. This theory was proven in victories over tough competitors like Baylor, Liberty, and best of all Fordham. The team's upset victory over Fordham in the regular season finale, is only a small taste of the achievements to come in the future. Fordham, the defending league champions, had not lost to a league opponent in Rose Hill Gymnasium in two years. This record was broken when the Navy Women stepped on the court and handed the Rams the biggest upset of the year. This season saws great individual performances from Yolanda Ray, Jenna "Liza" Hausvik, Kim "Softy" Cowling, Erin "Hot Lips" Nickles, Jennifer "Richard" Ogilvie, and Tara "Stallion" Caroselli. Not to mention the remarkably consistent performances from the freshmen class of Kate Wells, Alyce Fernebok, Laura McClelland, Leigh Glassman, and Shelly Loustaunau. All in all, the team provided its fans with highly competitive and exciting games that had them on the edge of their seats. The future of the team holds high aspirations of an automatic NCAA tournament bid and Patriot League Championships. Unfortunately with the closing of each season there is a sad farewell from the seniors. Although Heather Brand and Kim Drayton will never play for Navy again, their hearts and soul will eternally remain with the Women's Basketball Team! BEAT ARMY!!!

Women's Basketball

Taking Flight

Navy Men's Gymnastics has a tradition that stretches over a period of eighty-seven years. Former gymnasts include the Arctic explorer Richard Byrd, captain of the team in 1910. In 1932, four Naval Academy gymnasts earned medals at the Olympic Games in Los Angeles. The Navy Gymnastics tradition is strong both athletically and militarily. Navy Coach Sho Fukushima Ph.D, completed his second season as head coach. The former Japanese national team member, University of Washington gymnast, and Olympic coach, believes the team is relatively young and has not reached its full potential. The team is relatively young having lost its only two seniors, team captain J.J. Skelly, Eastern Intercollegiate League champion on the horizontal bar and NCAA Eastern region qualifier, and Kevin Hanson. Injuries hampered the team much of the season but that did not overshadow great performances delivered by Fourth

Taking a Strain

It was a season of transition for the Mids as they greeted new head coach Jack Bliss midway through the season. After winning their first meet of the year over Ursinus, 163.75-154.20, Navy failed to win again. The Mids, however, had many strong performances toward the end of the year, their best effort came in the season finale against North Carolina and William & Mary when they totaled a season high score of 167.3.

Women's Gymnastics

Second Classman Brenna Baker and Kendra Williams were Navy's most consistent performers throughout the year. Baker recorded a personal best 38.85 in the all-around competition against Cortland State and West Chester and also had personal bests in the vault (8.45) and on the balance beam (8.85).

A personal best was also turned in by Williams in the all-around, as she scored 35.35 against Radford to finish third.

Triple Crown!

The 1993 season was a season of firsts for the track team. It was the first time that Navy won the "Triple Crown" which consists of winning the cross country, indoor track and outdoor track Heptagonal Championships in the same academic year. The Heptagonal championship consists of all of the Ivy League schools plus Army and Navy. The 1993 outdoor track Heptagonal victory was the third consecutive outdoor championship.

The track team also made history by handing Army the largest defeat ever. In doing so, senior Greg Keller became the first athlete at Navy to win twelve N - stars. The previous record was 11 N - stars, held by Navy Alumnus Ron Harris. It is noted that in order to win 12 N - stars, an athlete must go four years without a single loss to Army. Not only did the outdoor track team do this, but also the indoor track and cross country teams did so as well. This meant that runners in the class of 1993 do not know the meaning of defeat, at least not by the hand of the Black Nights of Army.

The team went undefeated for the third straight year in dual meet competition. Against Army, Joel Robertson set a new school record in the triple jump of 51 feet 4 inches and both Darryl Gobble and Che Bolden tied for a new meet record in the pole vault. Stan Duplaga set a new school record in the javelin and former all americans, Greg Keller and Todd Washburn qualified for the NCAA championships.

At Penn Relays, the 4 x 100 meter relay team of Joe Cox, Che Bolden, Mike Wilson and Brian Proctor won the Intrepid Service Academy championship of the world relay and were awarded gold watches by celebrity Bill Cosby. The 1993 season was a success in all aspects, adding another chapter in the ever growing Navy Track dynasty.

Record Breakers

The Women's Varsity Indoor Track team had its second successful season since turning Division I last year. Five Academy records and numerous personal records were broken during this single season. 1/C Kerry O'Neill set a new 5000m record with her time of 17:22.94. The plebes proved their spots on the team as the other four record breakers. 4/C Lori Kelley broke the 1000m record with a 2:54.8 time, 4/C Alicia Chiaramonte heaved a record 41'4 1/2" in the shot put, 4/C Roxanne Rusinko tied in the 55m Hurdles with a time of 8.52, and 4/C Madalyn Spivey leapt 37'10" in the Triple Jump to break the standing record.

The lone setback of the season was the devastating loss to Army. However, 13 personal records were set during that meet alone proving the intensity of the competition. Winning finishes include: 3/C Sonja Knight in the long jump and 55m Dash, Madalyn Spivey in the triple jump, Kerry O'Neill in the 3000m, 2/C Aletha Williams in the 800m, and the 4x800 relay team of Lori Kelley, 1/C Julie House, 2/C Sarah Loverich, and Aletha Williams.

Grappling Midshipmen

The Navy grapplers completed another successful season finishing with a 19-3-1 record. They fell to powerhouse Penn State, who was ranked first in the country at the time, in their opener, but they soon turned things around. They posted an easy win over Wilkes and then went on to claim the team title at the Sunshine open in Tampa with three individual champs in Rob Weis (118), Jamey Cummings (167), and Tom Storey (190).

Wrestling

After three easy victories over Princeton, New York University, and Delaware State, they headed down to the Virginia Duals where they placed fifth in a very tough field of sixteen teams. They lost to Wisconsin and Oklahoma in a couple heartbreakers but did defeat rivals North Carolina, Brown, and the Big Red of Cornell on their way to fifth place.

After the Virginia Duals, they went on a streak of 12 dual meets without a loss, defeating strong teams such as Syracuse, West Virginia, Lehigh, Maryland, UNC, and N.C. State. The only blemish in this streak was a 15-15 tie with Pitt.

*T*om Storey, a 1/C from Coudersport, PA, maintains control of Army's 190 pounder T.J. Wright riding him for 30 seconds for a sudden death overtime victory.

*T*he Navy team members watch their companions in competition. Although Wrestling appears an individual sport team work is a mighty contributor, as shown by the Spirit of Navy Wrestling.

Grappling Midshipmen

The final victory of the season was the sweetest, though, as the Navy matmen made it 31 years in a row without a loss to Army. The Mids traveled up to West point this year and wrestled the Knights in front of a crowd of over 4000. With the match tied at 10-10, 167 pounder Jamey Cummings pulled out a close match before Doug Zembiec, Tom Storey, and Dan Hicks won the remaining matches en route to a 22-10 victory.

Wrestling

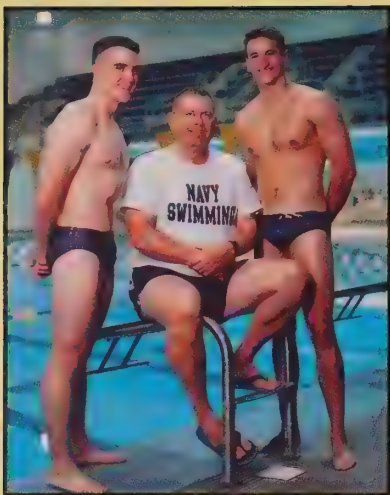

Greg Wise gives new meaning to the term "Riding Your Opponent" versus a JMU opponent in the Navy Classic. Navy came in 4th of 7 teams.

Doug Zembiec prepares to shoot a takedown en route to a 4-3 victory in his 177 pound match against Army's Simon Reese

EIWA's were disappointing as they finished third behind Cornell and Brown, but they had two champs in Jamey Cummings (167) and Tom Storey (190) and three runners-up in Nick Melfi (142), Doug Zembiec (177), and Dan Hicks (HWT). All five of them went on to represent Navy at the NCAA Division I Championships in Ames, Iowa. None of them placed, but Zembiec, Storey, and Hicks all wrestled well, falling short of All-America status by just one match.

Navy finished with a 7-4 record, its most wins in four years, and defeated Army 141-102. The Mids, behind the excellent showing of plebe diver, Nate Smith, placed fourth at the Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming League Championships. Smith won both the one meter and three meter championships. He was awarded the Karl Michael Award as the meet's outstanding diver and is the first Naval Academy diver to sweep the two springboard events at the Eastern Seaboard. The fourth place team finish was the best by Navy since 1969-70.

Smith completed an outstanding plebe year by finishing 14th on the one meter and the 10 meter platform, and 16th on the three meter board. He earned honorable mention recognition by virtue of scoring points in all three diving events.

Men's Swimming

The Midshipmen broke four school records at the Eastern Seaboard. Plebe Ian Johnston set an Academy record while finishing second in the 200 breaststroke with a 2:02.88, while the 400 yard medley relay team of Brad Juhl, Ian Johnston, Matt Kemball-Cook, and Tyson Lewis was fourth in a school record time of 3:24.33. The 200 medley relay team of Paul Kress, Ian Johnston, Matt Kemball-Cook, and Tyson Lewis was fifth with a school best time of 1:33.58. Steve Platt was eighth in the 200 freestyle with a school record of 1:38.90.

Sinking the Competition

The Women's 1992-1993 Swim Team had a fantastic year, ending with the Patriot League title for the second year in a row. The team has dominated the Patriot League since it joined it after moving up to NCAA Division I competition two years ago. The class of 1996 brought ten new members to an already strong team, and the women rolled over their competition, finishing the dual meet season with a 10-1 record. The team beat its local rival, the University of Maryland, for the first time ever, and CRUSHED Army at West Point. The Knights didn't have a chance as the women won 13 of 16 events, beating Army by the largest margin ever: 203-97. This victory enabled the four firsties on the team, Bernadette Neglia, Marybeth Sines, Heather Davies, and Kelly Kinsella, and Assistant Coach Bethany Carter to retire from Navy Swimming with a perfect 4-0 record against Army.

At the Patriot League Championship Meet, the women took the lead the first day of competition and never looked back. First place wins included Marybeth Sines (200 Fly), Heidi (500 Free), and Kelly Kinsella (200IM, 100Breast, 200 Breast). Almost all of these first place wins also set new Patriot League records. After winning three individual events, Kelly Kinsella was named Co-Swimmer of the meet; Coach Purdy was named Women's Swim Coach of the Year, and Heather Davies was named Scholar-Athlete of the League. Following Patriot League Championships, the women traveled to Buffalo for the Eastern Women's Swim League Championships, a meet that included the top Division I teams along the East Coast. Marybeth Sines had the top finish for the women with her 4th place finish in the 200 Fly, and the team placed 10th overall.

The team is losing four seniors, but still has several record breakers among its ranks, including Heidi Fearon, who set a new Academy record in the 200 Free and a Patriot League record in the 500 Free, and is looking to break many more records during her upcoming youngster year. Best of luck to the women, keep BEATING ARMY, and remember the NO lecture...

Time On the Strip

The Naval Academy fencing team experienced an exciting challenge during the 1992-1993 season: facing tough competition with a relatively inexperienced team. The season began with a surprise for most members. That surprise was the arrival of a new coach, Janusz Smolenski. From the first day, however, the members of the team dedicated themselves to their new coach and to the sport of fencing. With many days of practice and what seemed to be endless hours of fencing, not to mention the guidance of Coach Smolenski, the team grew at an incredible pace. As a result, Brodie Prieto, Ben Cook, Frank Wittwer, James Biribauer, Greg Donofrio, and Pete Kim performed exceedingly well. Brodie Prieto, in an incredible day of fencing, claimed the gold medal in epee at the Eastern Championships this year. Also, great efforts were put forth at the NCAA Regional Championships by James Biribauer, Frank Wittwer, Greg Donofrio, and Tim Gudukas. James Biribauer went on to the NCAA National Championships, where he finished in eleventh place. The coming season should prove to be even better, as the less experienced fencers gain much needed "time on the strip" while improving their skills with help from their fencing master. Thanks for a great year, and good luck with the next!!

Men's

Rebuilding a Powerhouse

The Women's varsity fencing team experienced what can be best termed as a building year during its 1992-1993 season. First classman Andrea Lewis lead the young team through a tough schedule of top ranked schools. A bright star in this year's program was Plebe and top ranked Navy fencer Julie Nichols, who lead the team in victories this season. Following close behind were team captain Lewis and second classman Chanel Ray. This year's team welcomed the talents of youngsters Tiffany Williams and Mary Tomlin. Tomlin's and Williams' strong athletic ability and hard charging spirit provided an excellent example for the team's six plebe fencers.

Women's Fencing

Overall, Head Coach Januz Smolenski was pleased with the performance of his team. "The good fencers fenced well, and the younger fencers learned a great deal. This year was a good experience for the plebes, because they got to fence some of the best fencers in the NCAA. They may have lost, but it is that experience that will give these women the advantage in future years and help Navy to become a top ranked team."

Skating to Victory

Navy backed up last year's 17-5 performance with another winning season this year, posting a 14-6-1 mark. Navy continued their domination of West Chester by extending their streak over the rival to 5 straight.

The work that led to all of the success of the Hockey team began long before there was ice down in Dahlgren Hall. Early in September all prospects were subjected to a challenging dry-land program including running and weightlifting regiments. This ensured that all team members were prepared for some of the most grueling skating practices ever conducted between the boards of Dahlgren.

Many members of the team were standout performers led by the powerful first class trio of Jeff Fogarty, Steve Roberto, and Jon Hetland. Although the team will lose eight firsties, Navy Hockey promises a solid season again next year.

Champion Pugilists

Navy boxing put on a great show for all at the brigade championships in late February. The following pugilists came out victors in the event: Alex Salunga'95 (112), Kirk Loftus'93 (119)

Shane Voudren'94 (132), Pete Jensen'95 (139), Matt Watt'94 (147), Alex Bullock'94 (156), Chris Browning'94 (165), Chandler Comerford'95 (172), Jon Ohman'96 (180), Joe Wiendl'93 (190), Wes Philbeck'94 (HWT).

Navy sent a full roster to V.M.I. to compete in the South-East regional championships. Navy did extremely well, taking eight of the twelve weight classes. These winners became All-Americans and went on to compete at the national championships in Reno, Nevada: Alex Salnuga, Kirk Loftus, Nick Hernandez, Alex Bullock, Chandler Comerford, Hank Molina, Joe Wiendl, and Wes Philbeck.

Alex Bullock became the 156 lb. National Champion and Alex Salunga and Kirk Loftus were National runner-ups. Other exceptional performers for Navy were Matt Watt, who won the coveted Spike Webb outstanding boxer award, and Chandler Comerford, who won the South-East Regional outstanding boxer award.

Navy Boxing was led by co-captains Mike Huber and Troy Turner during the regular season and by Kirk Loftus during the intercollegiate season. Navy looks forward to a promising upcoming season with several seasoned veterans ready to lead the team to a national championship.

National Dynasty

The 1992-1993 season was an extremely successful one for the Navy Pistol team. Coached by Mr. William Karditzas and O-Rep, Asst. Var Coach, and J.V. Coach Captain Scott Wessinger, USMC, Navy once again posted an impeccable record, with one of the victories coming, of course, at Army's expense. Navy beat Army for the seventh time in eight years, this time by over 700 points, one of the largest margins of victory in the rivalry's history.

Managed by 2/C Bartkovak and 3/C Morgan, Navy continued its success in sectional competition, winning the number-one seed in each of the national team events, while qualifying 11 shooters for participation in the individual events.

When the mids travelled to Colorado Springs for the National Championships, the story was no different. Navy swept all three team matches for the second straight year, and did extremely well in the individual matches as well. Senior Chris

Pistol

Alvarez took first place in free pistol (tying his own record of 630), first place in standard pistol, and second place in air pistol. Senior James Marsh took second place in standard pistol, and Team Captain Brady Brady completed Navy's sweep of the standard pistol competition with a third-place finish.

Seven Navy shooters achieved All-American status, taking 12 of the 13 spots on the first teams: Alvarez (free, standard, air), Marsh (free, standard, air), Brady (free, standard, 2nd team air), senior Austin Wang (standard), juniors Stefan Sidahmed (free, air) and Chris Harrell (air), and sophomore Jeff Gottlieb (2nd team free). Marsh has received All-American status in each of his four years at the Academy, while Alvarez became the first ever collegiate shooter to be named a three-gun All-American for each of his four years of eligibility.

Navy will be losing some outstanding shooters with the graduation of Alvarez, Marsh, Wang, Matt Reuter and Brady. However, the depth of the team is such that the team will be able to carry on the winning tradition for years to come.

Navy rifle enjoyed another stellar season during the winter of '92-'93. Coach Ray Anti guided the team to his first undefeated season and one hundredth victory of his eight year tenure. Leading the team was John Campbell, Anti's only recruited athlete from the class of '93. John consistently performed outstandingly in both the air rifle and free rifle. One of the highlights of the season was John's setting the range record in air at the Army range. His score of 393 helped Navy beat Army for the third consecutive year. Three shooters earned All-America accolades, including Campbell, team captain George Korol, and another senior, Joe Madrid. Joe and George walked on the team plebe year and through many hours of hard work under the coaching of Anti became the foundation for this year's successful season. Navy will also say goodbye to one more senior, John Kennard. Looking ahead, Navy rifle will be lead by Matt Bartel, Brian Ross, Dan Hughes, and Joe Johnson. Navy will continue to be a strong competitor in NCAA rifle for years to come.

Winter intramurals are always fun. Midshipmen take to the football fields, handball courts, and swimming pools in the afternoons to compete against their classmates. Winter intramurals are sometimes tough as a warm rack is a much better alternative than a frozen football field. However, once on the field, competition is fierce as Intramurals here at the Naval Academy are different than any other university. Everyone not in a varsity sport or other Brigade Support Activity is a member of some type of intramural. It helps promote company unity and spirit.

As in the past, the Navy Squash team had another exceptional season. Their 16-4 record earned them a #5 national ranking. The team was led by First Class and four-year lettermen Christian Peterson, team captain Casey Garwood, and three-year letterman Jay Matzko. Top individual records belonged to Jamie Slough, 16-2. Al Sprenger, Mo Curran, and Casey Garwood each finished with 16-3 records.

Navy Squash had an array of great wins this season. Navy defeated Penn 5-4 at Penn. This was the first Navy squash team to accomplish this feat. Other notable wins were over Brown, Williams, Cornell, Dartmouth, and a thundering home win over Franklin and Marshall. Navy concluded its season with a second win over Williams this season, 5-4.

Squash

Individual honors included three year All-American Jamie Slough being named to first team again. Two year All-American Casey Garwood was named to second team. He was given the John Skillman Award, given annually to the collegiate player who exemplifies sportsmanship throughout the season. Garwood also won the NISRA Consolation Championships and the Individual Championships.

The Navy Squash team looks to another great year in 93-94. Six returning lettermen will assure coach Dave Brown of a successful team. They include second-class Slough, Eric Green, Bob Wirth, third-class Mo Curran, Al Sprenger, and plebe Mike Elliot. Third-class Rob Bandy and Tim Buller will also be among the starters next year.

Swiingg Batter!!

The Mids used a seven-game winning streak to vault to a Patriot League Southern Division Title, but lost the overall league championship in a three game series with Northern Champion, Fordham. Still, the Midshipmen received an at large bid to the ECAC Tournament.

In that tournament, they lost the opener, 1-0, in 10 innings to St. Francis. Navy bounced back to defeat C.W. Post 9-5 behind home runs by first baseman Marcus Lee and dthird baseman Andy Payne before being eliminated by Fairleigh Dickinson 13-7.

In the playoff series with Fordham, the Mids opened with an 11-1 win as Patriot League Most Valuable Player Marcus Lee had a pair of doubles and RBIs. The Rams pulled off an 8-5 win in game two and prevailed in the rubber game 6-2, riding a three run homer by Joe Schultz.

Baseball

In addition to Lee being named the league MVP, head coach Joe Duff was selected as Co-Coach of the Year and shortstop Todd Butler and centerfielder Steve Mauro were named to the All-Patriot League first team.

Lee ranked among the nation's leaders in RBI throughout the season, finishing with a 1.54 per game average. He set a league and school single season mark with 12 home runs, and his 60 RBIs this season is a Navy record. Lee was also named to the ECAC All-Star first team and the All-Northeast Regional All-Star team.

Butler, who was named a third team All-America by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association, hit .353 and belted five home runs this season.

Let's Play Two

The 1992-1993 Fastpitch Softball season ended with a winning record of 11 wins and 3 losses. The team had the disappointment of having two doubleheaders cancelled due to weather. The highlight of the team's season was the annual road trip to Melbourne, Florida that gave Navy its first sunshine practice on a field instead of indoors. It was also the first tally in the win column.

Softball

The recruiting efforts were increased this year which introduced some new talent to the squad. Kim Scango, Kristen Culler, Diane Quattrone, Erica Hoffman, and Jennifer Farkasfalvy added some badly needed depth and power in the infield and on the pitching staff. This winning combination, with Coach Warren Abel at the helm, proved to be a successful one.

The team looks forward to even more success next year when it returns almost the entire team.

Brotherhood

The Navy Heavyweight Crew team looked forward to a successful 1993 spring season. They returned fourteen lettermen from the 1992 Intercollegiate rowing championship first and second boats. The defending national team champions fielded five boats continuously throughout the season which helped strengthen all the boats. The team had a strong showing in the fall "head" racing season.

Navy started off strongly sweeping the Princeton heavies and capturing the "little man trophy" for the first time since 1985. The next mission was to bring back the Goes Cup which had resided in Syracuse or Cornell since 1989. They did so in a convincing manner. They took their undefeated record into the Adams Cup against Harvard and Pennsylvania in Philadelphia. After leading the entire race they were unable to hold off a furious sprint from Harvard and took second place. The stage was set for the Eastern Sprints, the Kentucky Derby of collegiate racing, against the most formidable competition in the country. The varsity took 5th, second varsity 4th, and the plebes 3rd. Although not ecstatic about their showing they felt in good position for improvement heading into team nationals and retaining the title.

The strength of the team was due to the strong first class leadership. The graduating first class: Dave "Rhodes" Ismay, John "Eagle" Owings, Roger "Rog" Ouimet, Dave "Padre" Bretz, Troy "Yoda" Solberg, Mike "2.0" Haas, Tom "Stonewall" Gore, Scott "Slavedriver" Overbeck, Gene "Woodie" Woodruff, Mike "Snuggles" Fenton, Brad "Carrotop" McMillan, captain Jon "All-Power" Shields, and manager Jim "Buddha" Knoll. Iron Mids

"My rowing career earned me only one lasting thing-myself. Simple stuff, rowing, and for me the reward is everlasting. I could not have arrived at this place any other way." -- Brad Lewis, 1990.

Navy's fall season set the stage for the remainder of the year. Strong finishes by all three class boats at the Head of the Potomac were followed by a second and third at the Navy Day Regatta in Philly. The first boat then traveled to Cambridge to "row over some oars" at the Head of the Charles and fire a warning shot over the bows of the best collegiate crews in the nation. The Head of the Schykill paraded Navy's strength as the 1V made up time on the league's fastest boat, Penn, and walked through Princeton under the final bridges, defeating all other college crews. The 2V also fared well, beating all other similar crews and showing the depth of the program.

The Ltwt's turned their attention next to post-season rowing and winter land training. Under the watchful eye of second year coach Mike Hughes, and with the leadership of teen seniors and 14 returning lettermen, the team hit the weights, circuits, tanks, gamuts, and Concept II's with a vengeance to match the intensity of their heart-rate driven work-outs.

Although the athletes were well prepared to end their Dark Ages and get back on the Severn, the youngster weatherman failed his duties- the river being more suitable for surfing than rowing- and the team continued to run, swim, lift, and erg like there was no tomorrow. Navy lived up to their two rules, however: "don't sweat the small stuff; and everything is small stuff," and managed to earn their most successful spring season in recent and not so recent memory. Their winning record boasted team victories over Coast Guard, Columbia, GW, Georgetown, Drexel, Michigan, with 2V/3V winning the Penn race as 1V proved the strength of their character in the closest race of all time, losing by a surge and the length of a bowball.

The team pumped for Eastern Sprints despite its placement in the middle of finals and the Dean's heartburn over the ordeal, tapered perfectly and came prepared for their Sunday racing. Although they fought a heated battle over the length of the course, a poor start proved the downfall of the 1V, but the 2V qualified with ease, to poise them for their fifth place finish in the country's most competitive rowing league. For their part, a discouraged Varsity remembered how to make tea, and rowed for their lives, with poise and confidence to win petit finals

Overall thee lights worked well for all team goals, posting a 3.0+ SQPR earning more than their fair share of Brigade billets, and achieving excellence through rowing. The Ltwt's "whole-man" concept served them well this season, producing oarsmen and officers of the highest caliber, and should continue to serve well as the new tradition of victory and success leads toward the future. The '93-'94 season should continue to build on the foundation of the '92-'93 racing. With nine returning lettermen, strong leadership by a large '94 contingent, and the firsties to be blessed with three years of Hughes coaching, the NAVY LTWTS have everything to look forward to. Stay quick at the catch. Row Hard. Row Well, Row Fast, ROW NAVY LTWTS!

Host Navy finished second at the Patriot League Championships, was 13th at the Princeton Invitational and concluded the season with a sixth place finish at the Eastern Championships. The Mids edged out Army 393-396, earlier in the spring.

Golf

Second classman Mike Gullion placed fifth at the league championships, while firstie Rick Davis was seventh. At the Princeton Invitational, Gullion had a two-day total of 152 and at Easterns, Plebe Craig Bangor was sixth after firing a two-day total of 149.

Tommy Roszko fakes around his Army cover as the Whoops watch their team go down for the first time in the season. One goal in the Army Navy game helped Tommy on his path to being Navy's second point man after Matt Pawlikowski. Tommy had 15 goals and 12 assists for a total of 27 points trailing Matt by only 4 points.

Going to the Wall

"Go to the wall!" This was a quote frequently heard by members of the 1992-1993 Navy Women's Lacrosse Team. Both Anne Wallace and Kim Aviles stressed that what the team hoped to accomplish throughout the season could not be achieved in practices alone. It was necessary for each member of the team to run, lift, and throw against the wall on their own time. This took a lot of personal dedication, and this year's Lacrosse team was more than up to the challenge. The team was led by captain Tiffany Zallnick, prior All-State Debbie Roberge, MVP Amy Morrison, and high-scorer Michele Casey. Along with a strong offense, the team possessed a tough defense including Liz Okano, Katie Jones, and Annika Moman. Navy improved last season's record of one win and five losses to a winning season of five wins and only one loss. The biggest win this season was definitely the first time victory over Army with a score of 9-7. The win was extra special as the Army team will be going division I varsity next season. This successful 1992-1993 season was possible even without two key players, Maureen McFarland and Cheryl Pence, because of sickness and injury.

Navy Women's Lacrosse has proved themselves worthy of club status and hopes to take on more competitive teams in the future. With the loss of only one first class, the team looks forward to an even stronger and more victorious season next year.

Promising Beginnings

The Navy Women's Tennis Club began its 1992 fall season with a new coach and a positive attitude. It paid off with the team's best fall and spring seasons in years. The year's record for the team was 4-5. Though a club team, the women's tennis team plays most all varsity teams, as was the case for this year. That can sometimes prove to be overwhelming, but this year's team handled it with grace and always with a positive attitude. This year also brought many new players to the team; including our player with the best record for the year, Patti Restrepo '96. Elizabeth Jamison, class of '95, was recognized as our most improved player of the year. Losing only one senior, club president Christy Martin, the team has a very promising future. We have also had the good fortune to have another person volunteer their time for the team. Dr. "Skip"

Women's

Tennis

Pomeroy of the Chemistry Department has helped the girls at practice and at matches, offering an unreplaceable wealth of tennis experience. A highlight of our year was the final match of our fall season against George Mason University. As a Division I team, George Mason was expected to be a very tough opponent. As the teams were tied, the match came down to the number 1 doubles. Our team of Patti Restrepo and Hillary Nagy, both class of '96, kept up their intensity to the last tie-breaking point, and the team left George Mason with a victory. With such a young team this can only be a taste of the victories that are to come. Under the leadership of Renee Delhiero, class of '94, next year promises to be a year of excitement and great tennis.

Tradition of Excellence

During the fall '92 season, the Navy Rugby team continued its tradition of excellence. All starters from the undefeated spring '92 squad that beat Army at West Point and won the Cherry Blossom tournament returned in the fall and began a season which would find them in Columbia, South Carolina for the Eastern Regional finals.

The ruggers started strong with a 72-0 victory at Clemson. They then went on to beat then-third-ranked Harvard in a tight match at Harvard. Navy followed these with a string of conference victories, losing only to Maryland while playing one man short. The season ended with Navy repeating as Potomac Rugby Union champions and eager to host the Mid-Atlantic Sectional finals.

Navy never broke stride on their way to their second straight Mid-Atlantic title, defeating Mary Washington and Virginia Tech by a combined score of 99-6. The next stop was Columbia, where the squad crushed Dartmouth 27-9 in the Eastern semifinals, and then saw their impressive season come to a close with a heartwrenching loss to Harvard, 19-6, in the finals. With that win, Harvard earned a berth in the National Championships in May of '93. Navy and head coach Mike Flanagan immediately began rebuilding, pulling up younger players from Navy's powerful B and C sides to replace the lost starters.

Due to their efforts and accomplishments, many players were recognized nationally. Seniors Suhaimi Sani and Max Shuman, along with junior Halsey Beshears, were selected to the U.S. Combined Services All-Star team. Additionally, seniors B.K. Lewis, Ted Burk, Vince Johnson, Chad Larges, and junior Jason Hedberg were selected to the Eastern All-Star team. Both teams had good showings in the Battle of New Orleans tournament in January, and even competed against each other twice - one victory apiece.

Navy's strong season proved to all doubters that Navy has created a tradition of winning, and even with an almost entirely new squad, will be the East coast's team to beat on the way to the 1994 National Championships.

Leader of the Pack

Navy's overall balance netted the Midshipmen their third straight Heptagonals Games Association Outdoor Track Championship and three Mids later won All-America honors with their performances at the NCAA Championships.

Joel Robertson won the triple jump (50' 10.75") for the second straight year and Greg Keller was the 3000 meter steeplechase winner (8:50.32). Stan Duplaga was a surprise winner in the javelin (231'), while Mike Wilson took the 400 meters (:46.84). Other Navy first place finishes included the 4x100 meter relay team, Rich Harrison in the shot put and Larry Coleman in the Hammer throw.

Men's Track and Field

The Mids had their best showing since 1974 at the IC4A Championships, tying George Mason for fourth place with 45 points. George Mason took the team title with 94 points.

At the NCAA Championships, Keller earned All-America recognition for the second straight year by finishing 12th in the 3000 meter steeplechase (9:13.65). Duplaga also earned All-America honors as did Todd Washburn. Duplaga was 10th in the javelin and Washburn was eighth in the 5000 meters.

Record Setters

The Women's Varsity Indoor Track team had its second successful season since turning Division I last year. Five Academy records and numerous personal records were broken during this single season. 1/C Kerry O'Neill set a new 5000m record with her time of 17:22.94. The plebes proved their spots on the team as the other four record breakers. 4/C Lori Kelley broke the 1000m record with a 2:54.8 time, 4/C Alicia Chiaramonte heaved a record 41'4 1/2" in the shot put, 4/C Roxanne Rusinko tied in the 55m Hurdles with a time of 8.52, and 4/C Madalyn Spivey leapt 37'10" in the Triple Jump to break the standing record.

The lone setback of the season was the devastating loss to Army. However, 13 personal records were set during that meet alone proving the intensity of the competition. Winning finishes include: 3/C Sonja Knight in the long jump and 55m Dash, Madalyn Spivey

With only 5 graduating seniors (Captain Nora Connelly, Maria Falzone, Julie House, Kerry O'Neill, and Sarah Quimby) the team looks promising for a strong '94 season behind new team captain Chris Westrich. Thanks for a great season to O-Rep LCDR Kaufmann, and managers 2/C Jen Jones, 3/C Paula Losey and 3/C Amy Hewitt.

Super Sailors

The 1992/93 season has been extremely successful in all areas for the Intercollegiate Sailing Team. By focusing on Lasers and J-24s in the fall we qualified for both singlehanded and sloop nationals. Three of our top singlehanded sailors captured every available spot for singlehanded nationals. They continued to work hard and finish respectfully in the challenging conditions at nationals held at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy. During the fall we also qualified for sloop nationals led by returning All-American and 1991/92 college sailor of the year Brad Rodi. In the spring our emphasis switched to dinghies resulting in major regatta wins. The dinghy program is ahead of schedule and planning toward nationals. The young women's team with determination and excellent coaching qualified for nationals in 20+ mph conditions. Excellent finishes in previous regattas by the top five boats make us the favorites to dominate both fleet and team racing nationals in late May and early June.

Kodokan Judo has a saying, "Seiryoku zenyo—Jita kyoei," which means maximum efficiency with minimum effort and mutual benefit and welfare. The Naval Academy Judo Club has modified this to be "maximum efficiency with maximum effort." Even though this philosophy goes against the teachings of Kodokan, it made our Club extremely successful in spite of numerous challenges. Most of our judoka do not come to the Academy with any judo experience, but through excellent instruction by our coach, Buzz Blanc, we have built a solid team that will continue to dominate the east coast competitions. The team was able to attend collegiate nationals in San Francisco, CA. Mario Montalvo earned second place, and may have been national champion if he had not suffered an injury. The other six competitors also placed well, with two finishing in the top six in their weight class. Our final match was against our most despised foe: Army. We hosted the tournament after nationals and fought the duel in the traditional Japanese manner with our seven best lining up against their seven best, no restrictions on weight or experience. Despite West Point's height, weight and experience advantage, we lost by one match. Army knew that they had barely escaped, and undoubtedly next year we will crush them into the mat.

The 1992-1993 Karate Club had a successful season despite many setbacks that had to be overcome. The Karate Club was able to participate in three tournaments, including hosting one. In the fall semester the Club attended and did very well at a tournament hosted by Catholic University, sending four dive men squads and winning first place. The club brought back many other trophies throughout the year in both areas, kata and fighting.

Karate

The diverse background of the midshipmen enabled the members to acquire a wealth of knowledge about the various martial arts and improve their skills. The Karate Club enables its members to improve their athletic and mental skills through its philosophy. Next year the club plans to, besides hosting one tournament, compete in at least two tournaments per semester.

Ultimate Passion

The sport of Ultimate is gaining popularity nationally as well as here at the Academy. The team here at the Academy is unique because the players, and others, give up most of their free time both during the week and on weekends to practice and compete in what is still an ECA sport. The team's accomplishments are even more commendable when one considers that team members also have to play intramural sports and thus cannot devote all of their time to Ultimate. Every night, a message can be found on the company boards that say, "Ultimate practice on Dewey Feild at 1900." This is even after drill and lectures.

1992-1993 was a successful year for the Navy Ultimate Team. Navy played in tree tournaments in the fall and five in the spring. In the fall, Navy came away with a first place finish at the Rutgers Ten Team Tournmoy. As well Navy took 2nd place at its first Annual Navy Classic. In the Spring, Navy finished 2nd in the consolation bracket at College Easterns and finished 5th out of 20 teams in the Mid-Atlantic Region.

Navy was lead by five four-year players, 1/C Dave Vavas seur, Craige Larson, Jeff Davis, Sal Contrares and Scott Seyfarth. 1/C Gary Clement, and Dave Gallus will be missed next year.

Next season holds much promise for Navy. The team will be lead by 2/C Brian Whittam. '96 showed a lot of promising players for years to come.

Special thanks should go out to LT Jay Stockwell for all of the support throughout the yeat in keeping things running smoothly.

Welcome to the Varsity Ranks

Navy Women's Soccer With a new coach (Lcdr Locke), and help from Cdr Cataldi and 2/c Greg Lane, Navy women's soccer had a successful fall season. Led by Captian 1/c Joy Bloom and Co-Captain 2/c Kerry Kuykendall, the women's soccer team developed into an experienced team that will go varsity in the fall of 1993. Although we unfortunately lose the first class consisting of Cori Jones,

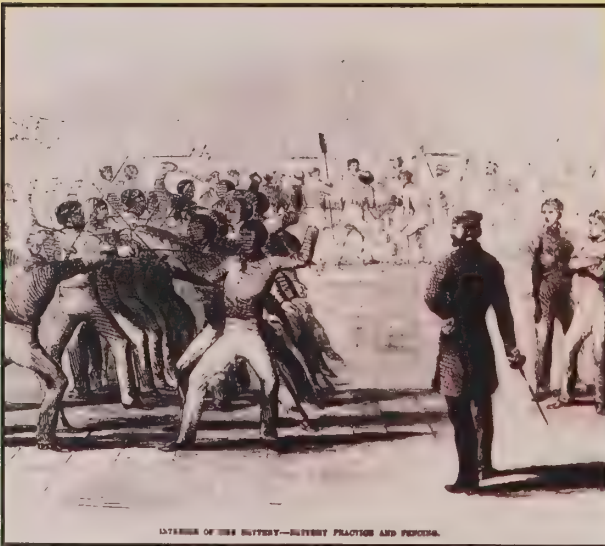

Women's Soccer

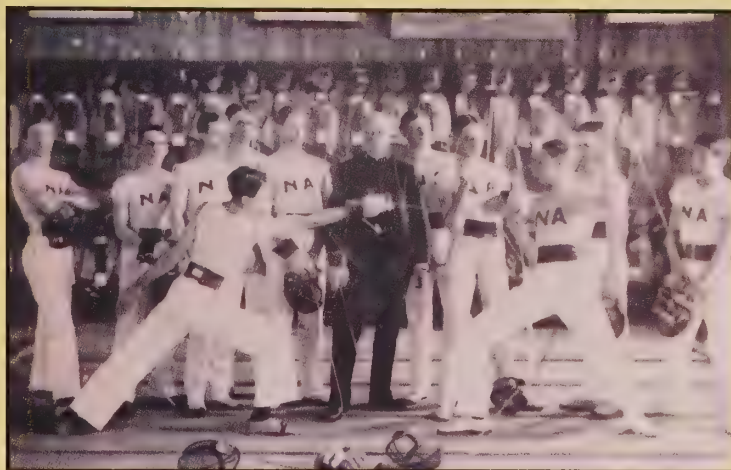

Debbie Draheim, Joy Bloom, Kelly Eubanks, Julie Brown, Laura Bajor and Meghan Tuttle, it is evident from the wrap up of the spring season, that we have a strong underclass team, as well. The year successfully closed with a spring season assisted by Coach Lt. Kristin Reynolds '89. This season was able to prepare the team for a strong fall season in 93.

Class of 1993

Congratulations Class of 1993!!! We have made a lasting impact in the history of the United States Naval Academy. Since entering I-day, July 3, 1989, we as a class have taken our individual characteristics and combined them into a strong cohesive personality. We have become both bold and aggressive through our professional training. These characteristics can be seen from some of the accomplishments the Class of 1993 has done during its four years by the Bay. We are the last plebe class to take over Bancroft Hall during Army Week and push the Supe around in a laundry cart, the class to re-establish the traditional outdoor Ring Dance, the first class to have cinderella libs in civilian clothes all year, the FIRST and LAST class to wildman the Dant, and the last class to have a plebe park his car on the yard with a '93 bumper sticker on it.

We as a class survived all the changes the world and the administration has thrown at us. From rumbles to I-90, NO247 to civies all year, ACTRAMID to TQL, and convocations to intercessionals, we've made it through without a major scandal. As for adaptability, '93 does rank as Number ONE! Carpe Diem, Good luck to all!

Treasurer: Kirk Clermont

Class of 1994

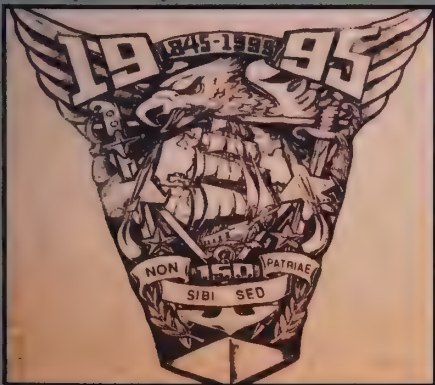

The Class of 1994 organization exists to promote morale and to represent the interests of the class in various activities. President Chris Williams and the other officers took the job of developing a complete class organization that includes various committees as well as representatives from each company. Great ideas from both Jason Berger and Scott Hornbuckle, tempered by the financial advice of treasurer Kirk Clermont helped make things happen for '94. During the fall, '94 held two highly successful tailgaters. Social Committee Chairman Candi Cunningham organized both events. The class had a great time (at least until the OOW's came...) The Spring brought more parties, with the most important being Ring Dance. The diligence of Ring Dance Chairman Jim Crimmins helped make the May 22nd a great night for everyone. Thanks to the hard work of so many of their classmates, '94 has a lot of great memories and can look forward to more great times with the class during firstie year and beyond.

Class of 1995

The primary goal of 1995 class president has been to effectively serve as a liaison between the class and the command, in close contact with the officer reps and the Deputy Commandant. The '95 staff are taking on issues with a willing and dedicated attitude. Issues addressed by the president include policy-related matters, such as upgrading class liberty privileges, creation of a secured parking lot at N-MC Stadium, and input to the administration on the scheduling of training periods (Intercessional) affecting midshipman time. Administrative matters acted on by the president, staff, and class reps included the purchase of class t-shirts and other emblematic items, and advisory input to the staff on financial issues such as Ring Dance and other activities that affect midn pay accounts. Select committees are being created by the president, in order to help positively shape action in areas ranging from selection of t-shirt designs, to advising the Supe's planning committee on events to be held in 1995 celebrating the Academy's 150th year.

The Man In The Arena

It is not the critic who counts, not the one who points out how the strong man stumbled or how the doer of deeds might have done them better. The credit belongs to the man is actually in the arena, whose face is marred with sweat and dust and blood; who strives valiantly, who errs and comes short again and again, who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions, and spends himself in a worthy cause; who if he wins, knows the triumph of high achievement; and who fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory or defeat.

RING AND CREST COMMITTEE

The Ring and Crest Committee is comprised of those midshipmen who create, design, and finally implement their respective class crests. Beginning Plebe year, a group of plebes representing each company in the brigade gather together to come up with ideas for their class crest. Working with the upperclass on the committee and the advisor from the ring company, a final design is produced. Once produced the Ring and Crest Committee is responsible for the bidding, selection and final production of the respective class rings. These rings are cherished by the graduating midshipmen, as it symbolizes all the blood, sweat and tears they went through to get their commissions.

BRIGADE SOCIAL Affairs COMMITTEE

The Brigade Social Affairs Committee is a brigade support activity that has brought people together for over 30 years. With the help of the Social Director, Mrs. Baysinger, the BSAC organizes mixers and formal balls (Christmas, Valentines, and Spring formals). With the completion of the Brigade Activities Center, the BSAC is responsible for providing behind the scene support for brigade concerts. With less than 100 members, the BSAC is a small, but important part of the brigade's social affairs.

Midshipman Community Services Coordination Group

The Midshipman Community Service Coordination Group establishes contact between midshipman desiring involvement in the community and organizations in the community who would appreciate midshipman assistance. After this initial contact is established the group keeps records of midshipmen involvement and when appropriate files an after action report, so that future contacts with a group or service might prove an easier task. MCSCG also works with local publications to recognize achievements and to encourage future involvement in the community. MCSCG has been involved with Mids for Kids, Habitat for Humanity, Greenscape, Special Olympics, and several clean-up projects. With the institution of the Command Excellence Program, the MCSCG will be even more involved with midshipman and the community in the future.

Chess Club

The USNA Chess Club is an organization for both the leisurely and competitively spirited midshipmen. The Club meets twice a week in the Chesapeake Room and has about fifty members. Meeting consist of both informal and serious games, review of strategy and Master's Games, and lessons to improve your game. Formal matches are recorded to assist in the determination of local team representatives for competition. Competitions include Air Force and Army for the Chess Commander-In-Chief's Trophy and local team and Chief Tournaments. The Chess Club is also the host for the spring 1993 Maryland State High School Chess Championship in Alumni Hall. USNA Chess supports the Brigade by Offering a mentally challenging avenue for both recreational and serious players.

DEBATE Club

The United States Debate Team held its practices in the heights of Sampson Hall, our tournaments at nearby coeducational institutions of higher learning. We usually compete with colleges and universities in Virginia, Maryland, and Pennsylvania, but also tangled with the occasional out-of-town visitor from the New England Ivies. The team was comprised of members of all four classes who enjoy speaking, competing, and traveling far and wide on weekends. The younger two classes of yesteryear once again led the USNA Debate team through another successful year.

Big Brothers / Big Sisters

Big Brothers and Big Sisters is another example of midshipman community service and generosity. Our goal is to spend quality time with the youths in Annapolis or Glen Burnie Communities to develop their sense of being with someone who can be a role model, friend, or just a big brother or big sister. With the schedule of the average midshipman, it is easy to see that this is no small commitment. We call our little brother or sister once or twice a week and get together with them once or twice a month.

As a club we plan activities on the yard like bowling, skating, picnicking, or sporting events, where all the bigs can invite all the littles and not have to worry about transportation. Events off the yard include Oriole games and the Baltimore zoo. These events are good opportunities for the littles to get around and meet different people. Matching a big to a little is done by the caseworker who share common interests, hobbies, and backgrounds, all in an effort to facilitate the process of becoming friends. The most important thing about being a big brother or big sister is the special friendship that develops. In return for the time you give, you receive the satisfaction of being able to watch your little grow, make the right choices, and knowing that you were a part of his or her development.

ORGANIZATIONS

Silent Drill Team

The United States Naval Academy Silent Drill Team is comprised of over fifty midshipmen from all classes. The team has performed around the nation in support of Navy Football and Basketball Half-time shows and in inter-collegiate drill competitions. The team is also involved around the Annapolis area and has performed for many schools, parades, and civic groups as representatives of the Brigade of Midshipmen. Each summer, midshipmen from the entering plebe class have the opportunity to sign up for the drill team. If they persevere through the summer and stand out among their peers, when the Brigade returns in the fall, they are asked to join the returning members of the Varsity team. Those who are selected for the Varsity have the option to remain on the all-plebe team and perform at local area events while they gain experience and develop their skills. This competition breeds a close-knit group of professionals who practice two hours each day in preparation for their performances. The team uses the M-14 Service Rifle and the M-1 Drill Rifle each which weigh approximately ten pounds. The team combines the basics of military marching with the intricacies of spinning and throwing rifles.

CANNONEERS

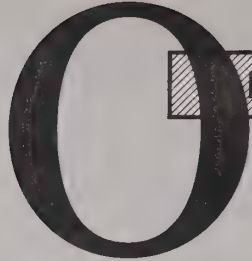

The United States Naval Academy Cannoneers are the midshipmen who provide the "BOOM" in every Navy Football game, from season kickoff, to Army-Navy game, and timing at the Herndon ceremony. The resounding "BOOM" that reverberates in your ears is made by an 1863 Dahlgren boat howitzer, used in the Battle of Mobile Bay, which sunk with its ship in that famous battle. It was discovered and restored and then given to the Naval Academy. It is one of the few operational boat howitzers in existence. Using their cannon as its centerpiece, the Cannoneers can be found entertaining visiting cheerleaders and adding a little excitement for the Brigade.

CHEERLEADING

You name it, they did it -- from Pentagon pep rallies to National Championship competition in Dallas. The USNA Cheerleaders kept it up all year long. Led by Chris Dague and Colleen Salonga, their season began early in August. At camp they swept away most of the awards including the Bronze Circle of Winners Award, the Spirit Stick, and the Most Spirited, as voted by other squads at camp. There were eight All-American nominees and two earned All-American status: Yolanda Wigham and Zac Staples. From there they competed at Nationals, Division I in which they placed 12th in the nation. Through football, basketball, pep rallies, receptions, 150's football, and many Army-Navy events, the cheerleaders had a long and busy season. It was a year full of fun that kept the spirit of the Brigade high.

PHOTOGRAPHY Club

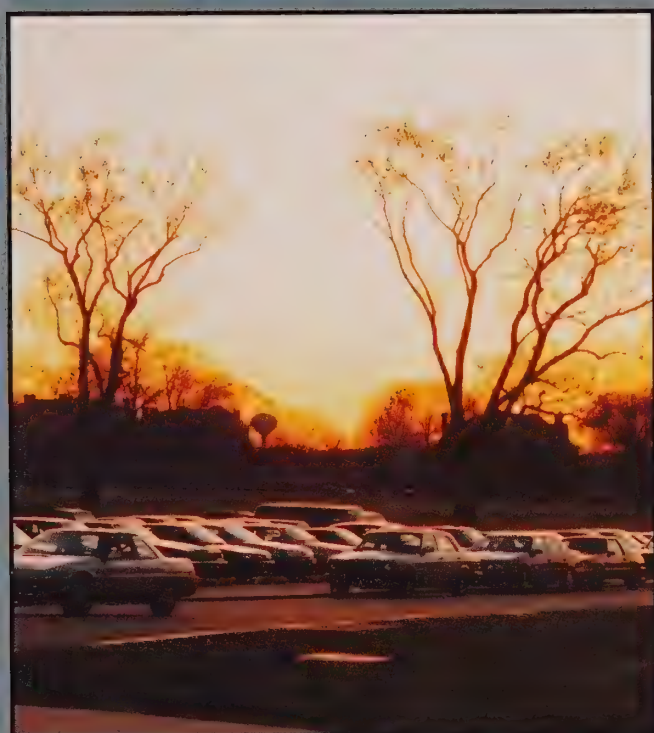

The USNA Photography Club operates and maintains a darkroom for the printing and developing of color and black-and-white film in Dahlgren Hall. Members pay a small fee which gives them access to the darkroom which is supplied with paper and chemicals. Experienced members are also available to give lessons in developing and shooting pictures to beginners. The Photo Club is the only visual arts ECA at the Academy.

Officers' Christian Fellowship

Officers' Christian Fellowship is a world-wide organization that reaches out to the armed services with the good news of Jesus Christ. It consists of officers, retired officers, and military dependents from every branch of military services around the world. At the Naval Academy, OCF helps Christians strengthen their relationship with Christ and reach out to others. It also provides midshipmen a way to escape the normal routine on weekends and holidays. In addition to regular Wednesday night meetings in Mitscher Hall, OCF gathers every Saturday night at the Maranatha Mansion for supper, followed by worship and fellowship. The Mansion is the home of Cal and Linda Dunlap, located at 21 Maryland Ave. Cal and Linda are the permanent OCF staff representatives at the Academy. They are assisted by OCF's officer representative, Capt. Don Smith, USMC, and the rest of the officer staff. Every three-day weekend midshipmen can put away the books and enjoy a spiritually renewing retreat at White Sulphur Springs. White Sulphur Springs is the beautiful eastern retreat center for OCF, tucked away in the Allegheny Mountains of Eastern Pennsylvania. OCF is a continually changing organization built on an unchangeable foundation. The direction which OCF is currently taking is summed up in the long range goal called Focus 2000: "To have dynamic, Christ-centered ministries of outreach and service to the military society at every major installation, vessel, and ROTC school by the year 2000." At the Academy, midshipmen do their part to accomplish this by learning what they can do to serve Christ when they hit the fleet.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

The Baptist Student Union is a religious ECA with members of several denominations, serving both midshipmen and civilians from the Annapolis area. Sponsored by the Southern Baptist Convention and local Baptist churches, the BSU provides a place of Christian fellowship and worship. With weekly meetings on Tuesday nights, members and guests gather to sing, pray, and listen to a variety of speakers who address topics relevant to Christian living. The midshipmen leadership and Director Richard Bumpass help organize numerous fellowship activities, such as a 3-day Mid-Winter retreat, an Army-Navy banquet, and fellowships after every home football game. The BSU conducts weekend work projects at local homes throughout the year, and a major work project in the spring to benefit underprivileged or growing churches. In May of 1992, BSUs from local colleges joined to build a church in Wilmington, DE. From the first weeks of Plebe Summer to the end of First Class year, the Baptist Student union is an important and enjoyable part of a Christian midshipman's life.

NAVIGATORS

The Navigators is an ECA whose mission is "To know Christ and to make Him known." We try to accomplish this through small group bible studies, one-on-one discipleship, and fellowship oriented activities. Each year the Navigators sponsor a fall and winter retreat as well as several other functions throughout the year. These functions include monthly Praise & Worship services, camping trips, an annual post Army-Navy celebration, weekend service projects, Spring Break ski trips, an annual break ski trips and a host of other fun-filled endeavors. The Naval Academy Navigators are only one facet of the Navigator ministry. The Navigators are a world-wide organization with members sharing the Gospel in every component of society from the corporate world to the home to the military. Around the world and here at the Naval Academy the Navigators are dedicated to sharing the love, hope, and message of Jesus Christ, our Lord and Savior.

Fellowship of Christian ATHLETES

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes, FCA, is an interdenominational group seeking to share Jesus Christ with members of the Brigade through a common interest in athletics. Our theme, for the second year, was taken from Romans 12:1 "Therefore, I urge you brothers, in view of God's mercy, to offer your bodies as living sacrifices, holy and pleasing unto God- this is your spiritual act of worship." Speakers for the year included Penny Hoeflinger, a former witch who now runs a ministry for women; CAPT Barry Spofford, former Officer Representative and current director for FCA of Maryland; and Greg Zingler, Mr. Alumni Hall and special friend. Highlights included the annual retreat at Camp Skycroft and the Christian ECA picnic as well as the various Cartoon nights. The most important thing of all was the development of our relationships with Christ and each other as we learn to be sacrifices.

Jewish Midshipmen Club

The Jewish Midshipman Club is an organization comprised of members of the Brigade who are interested in fellowship and in learning about the Jewish faith. The annual trip to Israel over Spring Break was a great success. Members and non-members both enjoyed the trip to the holy land. The year was full of festive as well as serious events. The Jewish midshipmen looked forward to each Friday service where they could enjoy the Oneg and relax with friends. The JMC sponsored events such as the Hanukkah Happening, and the annual Passover Seder. On a more serious note, JMC also sponsored a holocaust memorial where we remembered those who perished in the WWII concentration camps. The JMC also hosted "Project Healing" to let some of us go in town and help repair and paint a shelter.

LATTER DAY SAINTS STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The United States Naval Academy Chapter of the Latter Day Saints Student Association is composed of those members of the Brigade of Midshipmen interested in fellowship and learning about the doctrines of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. Its membership is open to both Mormons and anyone professing an interest in Mormon beliefs. The LDSSA fulfills its goals of strengthening the testimonies of Mormon midshipmen, providing support, and educating investigators through a variety of activities. These activities include weekly institute classes on the book of Mormon and the Holy Bible, trips to Washington D.C. temple, and numerous social events.

PROTESTANT MidSHIPMAN Club

That I might know Him and the Power of His Resurrection...
Philippians 3:10

The newly reorganized Protestant Midshipman Club currently includes all protestant midshipmen in its ministry. Members meet weekly for a Sunday evening Dinner-and-Devotion Service. Guest Speakers and musicians helped make the D-n-D a wonderful time of joyful praise to the Lord. The PMC sponsored retreats during the year in order to allow members time to relax away from the Academy and to fellowship with other midshipmen. The retreats were relaxing with time for fun in sun, good food, horse rides, games, songs, laughter, prayer, and quiet times. From its humble beginnings in Smoke Hall, the PMC has blossomed into a thriving family that welcomes anyone interested in knowing Jesus Christ. The PMC, with God's grace and guidance, will continue to fulfill its mission: to provide cohesion among the Protestants of USNA in order to equip spiritual warriors with the armor of love, friendship and family so that the love of Jesus Christ might be made known throughout the Academy into the Navy and the Marine Corps.

CATHOLIC MidSHIPMAN Club

The Catholic Midshipman Club got off to a good start for first semester. With great plebe participation and continuous support from the "regulars", we had a strong showing at every meeting throughout the year. Our monthly community service project for this year was SHARE. SHARE is a community service project where we distributed food to churches in the D.C. area that run low-cost soup kitchens for needy families. The two retreats we had were definitely different but equally fun. The "ghetto" retreat of the Fall as relaxing and fun with all those "rain-burgers!" The Spring retreat was a hard-core retreat led by the Franciscan "Bros." We all got much out of the retreats. Our list of speakers were vast and distinctive. They provided good practical insight on how to couple being a good Catholic and a good officer at the same time. Finally, one of the things we did perfect as a club was have FUN!! We invented excuses to have pizza parties, and our great tailgater with PMC and JMC were even better. And to top it off, our two socials were a raving success. From WRNV, the Commandant's Combo, good food, and good dancing, who could go wrong!!

CATHOLIC CHAPEL CHOIR

The Catholic Chapel Choir is tasked with providing musical support at the 0900 Sunday Mass in the Main chapel; the choir also supports any "special" Chapel Services. In addition, the Choir is occasionally called upon to represent the Academy's Catholic Community in performances abroad, such as the Annual Navy Day Mass for the Sea Services at the St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Shrine in Emmitsburg, MD. Catholic Chapel Choir provides an excellent opportunity for midshipmen to raise their voices to God in song, drawing from a repertoire of psalms and anthems. Through the gift of music, the Choir enhances the worship, spirit, and fellowship of the Catholic community at USNA.

Oh sing to the Lord a new song,
for he has done wondrous deeds;
Sing Praises to the Lord with the lyre;
With the lyre and the sound of melody.

Gospel Choir

Formed in 1985, the Gospel Choir has grown from 20 to over 50 members in less than eight years. Academic year functions for the choir include performances at local churches, schools, and community centers. An annual spring break tour also affords the choir the opportunity to interact with and encourage elementary and high school students to excel in all of their endeavors. Past tours have led the choir to Atlanta, GA., Detroit, MI., Orlando, FL., and St. Louis, MO. The choir has also performed before dignitaries and various special interest groups. The choir flourishes under the musical direction of Mrs. Joyce Garrett. With her outstanding musical background, she has endowed the choir with a diverse repertoire of gospel music ranging from the traditional hymns and Negro spirituals to the more contemporary sounds of the Winans and Edwin Hawkins. The Gospel Choir has grown into a strong musical representation of the Academy and continues to grow stronger in membership and most importantly, in the Lord.

PROTESTANT CHAPEL CHOIR

The Protestant Chapel Choir is a group of about fifty men and women of the Brigade who gather each Sunday during the year to provide music for the morning service. Each year the group makes their annual trips to Virginia Beach, VA and Governors Island, NYC to sing for Sunday morning services. The choir is a vital part of the religious experience at the Cathedral of the Navy.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Women's Glee Club have grown in the past few years to over fifty members. These women perform at many high schools, churches and special events traveling to places such as Key West, Florida and Washington D.C. One of the club's performances was at NBC's annual Christmas in Washington celebration. The club's repertoire includes patriotic songs, spiritual hymns, classical pieces, folk songs, and popular Broadway hits appealing to audiences of all ages. The Women's Glee Club's specialty group, the Stowaways, in their poodle skirts, letter sweaters, and bobby socks in saddle shoes entertain audiences of all ages with songs from the fifties and sixties.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

The United States Naval Academy Men's Glee Club has achieved national reputation for versatility and showmanship through its national tours and performances on network television. The group of approximately 80 midshipmen are under the direction of the Naval Academy Director of Musical Activities, Dr. John Barry Talley. The Glee Club performs for a wide variety of audiences with a repertoire including sea shanties, patriotic tunes, classical repertoire, political satire, and several traditional forms of popular music, especially the genres associated with men's voices—the barbershop quartet and a 1950's style rock 'n roll group with it's own version of "Sha-Na-Na". The group has traveled to Kentucky, Florida, and Texas this year performing in concert halls, churches, colleges, and high schools. They have also been featured on network television this year, including NBC's annual "Christmas in Washington" and the club's fourth consecutive appearance on CBS's "Presidential Inaugural Gala."

GLEE Club Musical: "CABERET"

The Glee Club Musical, in keeping with the long standing tradition of performing arts excellence, produced the provocative pre-WWII classic, "Cabaret"! What a production! Over eighty midshipmen involved in the production, started work in the fall and diligently dedicated much time and effort into a production that involved one of the largest productions in Naval Academy history. Through many costume changes and swapping sets, the midshipmen replaced athletic routines for graceful dance routines. Hard work is its own reward and the year-round efforts of a great production staff made all the theater magic possible. With the help of the music and production director, this became the second production performed in the Bob Hope Performing Arts Center to be a complete success. Once again, the musical was a tremendously popular and even a bit "rriskkee", making it a pleasure for all to enjoy!

ORGANIZATIONS

MASQUERADERS: "A MAN FOR ALL SEASONS"

The Masqueraders is the oldest extra-curricular activity at the Naval Academy dating back to 1849. Members participate in every aspect of the theatrical production from acting to directing, from ticket sales to set building, and running lights and sound. This year's production, "A Man For All Seasons", was a haunting portrait of the clash between the conscience of Sir Thomas Moore and the will of King Henry VIII. In addition to the annual fall production, Masqueraders co-sponsored the 2nd Annual Midshipman Playwriting Contest. The winning play is then produced solely by midshipman in the spring.

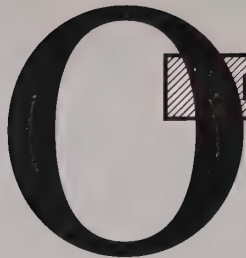

TRIDENT BRASS

The Trident Brass is a jazz ensemble whose purpose is to provide talented midshipmen with an organization in which to rehearse and perform jazz. They perform at several Brigade Activities throughout the year, including basketball games, the International Ball, and Herndon, as well as concerts in downtown Annapolis.

INTERNATIONAL Club

The International Club is an organization which acts as a means of representing and coordinating the various foreign language clubs at the Naval Academy. The International Club is composed of members of the Russian, French, Chinese, Spanish, and German clubs, as well as midshipmen from foreign countries. Each year this club sponsors the International Ball, inviting foreign dignitaries from Washington D.C. and their families to attend. In preparation for this event, ballroom dancing lessons are offered to the Brigade. Some of the midshipmen do an exhibition dance at the Ball to the music of the Trident Brass in Memorial Hall. Along with Trident Brass, the midshipmen and guests enjoy more popular music in Smoke Hall and midshipman bands in King Hall. The evening is always enjoyed by all who attend.

LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES Club

In its third year, the Latin American Studies Club is slowly evolving into an organization that serves to help midshipmen become culturally aware of its Hispanic neighbors. Since this year was the 500th Anniversary of Columbus' voyage, a slide show was presented concerning pre-Colombian cultures in the Americas. In the arena of current Latin American issues, the club sponsored a lecture by Wayne Smith who was head of the U.S. interests section in Havana, Cuba during the Carter administration. On a social level, the club had a few excursions. Among these were a trip to a 50th Anniversary dance and numerous trips to restaurants. These trips served to expose midshipmen to Hispanic cuisine and have a good time. The Latin American Studies Club also serves as an academic support mechanism for Hispanic members of the Brigade.

Black Studies Club

Few other ECA's have been as active or as committed to brigade and community service as the Midshipmen's Black Studies Club (MBSC). Dedicated to sharing African-American culture with the brigade of midshipmen, the MBSC has sponsored a series of lectures and conferences that have brought such distinguished speakers as Sec of Agriculture Michael Espy, NASA astronaut and USNA graduate, COL Charles Bolden, USMC and BGEN George Walls, USMC to share their experiences and perspectives as outstanding professionals who are also African-Americans. The monthly meetings of the MBSC, open to all members of the brigade, also serve as forum for insightful and intelligent discussions of controversial topics as the "True Message of Malcolm X" and "Interracial Relationships". MBSC's commitment to service was also exemplified in the Benjamin Bannaker tutorial program every Saturday morning to assist honor students from the Washington-Baltimore areas in math, science while giving them the opportunity to visit the state-of-the art laboratories on the yard. The broad spectrum of activities sponsored by the MBSC attest to the versatility of the membership talents and interests and their desire to serve the Academy and the Annapolis community by showing to everyone who interested in the richness of the African-American experience.

KOREAN-AMERICAN MidSHIPMEN ASSOCIATION

The purpose of the Korean-American Midshipmen Association is to promote the common interests of the members based on their similar ethnic backgrounds and interests. The club itself is open to the Brigade of Midshipmen, which provides an opportunity for all midshipmen to learn about the Korean-American culture as well as its history. Each year we attend various ethnic festivals as well as banquets to provide the members with a taste and experience of ethnic and cultural diversities in the neighboring communities. In addition, we attend two nationally recognized conferences: Korean-American Student Conference and the Smith College Conference. These conferences enhance the leadership potential of the members within the Korean-American community and brings awareness to minority involvement in the armed forces. This year, the club also took a trip to the Korean Embassy in Washington D.C. in order to establish ties with other organizations and clubs with a similar focus. The Korean-American Midshipmen Association will continue to strive for education and give midshipmen a positive image of the Korean-American community and a better understanding of cultural diversity.

Filipino-AMERICAN Club

The Filipino-American Club also known as BARKADA, gives the Brigade a chance to learn about the culture, traditions, and the life-style of the Philippines. It serves mainly as a support group for Filipino midshipmen. At the bi-weekly meetings, Filipino culture and current Philippine events are discussed. During the year, the club holds skating parties and tailgaters at football games for its members and its sponsors. The club holds an annual dinner during commissioning week recognizing the parents of the graduating class and member's sponsors. Each spring, the club holds a cultural retreat and opens it up to similar clubs from local colleges. The club also tries to attend cultural events at other colleges. Barkada also works closely with the Filipino Associations of Anne Arundel and Washington D.C. Each summer members of the club serve as escorts in the Miss Philippines beauty pageants held in Virginia Beach, VA and Washington D.C. Locally, the members serve as role models for Filipino kids.

JAPANESE-AMERICAN Club

The Japanese-American Club was founded to promote and stimulate interest in Japanese culture. In our second year, we continued our mission of educating anyone interested in the Japanese culture and want to experience it. The Club took a trip to the Japanese Embassy in Washington D.C. and took a tour of the grounds including the traditional tea ceremony. Dinner at a local restaurant was a feast for all who attended. The club also interacted with the D.C. chapter of the JACL, the Japanese American Citizen League. Enthusiasm of this year's members will spark continuous support and interest in the years to come.

INTERNATIONAL MidSHIPMAN Club

The International Midshipman Club (IMC) is an organization that brings together all the foreign national midshipmen at the Naval Academy. It was primarily established to provide a frame in which foreign midshipmen can meet fellow foreign shipmates. One of IMC's goals is to provide a support for all incoming plebes with life at the Academy as well as the American culture. Members often meet socially at sporting events, and luncheons to discuss upcoming events. We, the foreign nationals at USNA, believe in our mission as representatives of our own countries and are aware of our duty to communicate and exchange knowledge and culture among ourselves as well as with our fellow American shipmates. We all hope that this club will serve as a strong contributing factor to better understand international relations in a new emerging world order.

ASTRONOMY Club

The Astronomy Club is an ECA open to all midshipmen. During the year the club organizes trips to such places as the Smithsonian, the Naval Observatory, and the Goddard Space Flight Center. The club made a trip to the Air and Space Museum in October and plans on a trip to the Naval Observatory this spring. This year marks the second year with the 7 3/4" inch Alvin Clark Refracting Telescope. Observing through the telescope is done by qualified midshipmen only and on open house visits scheduled for group tours. Vast amounts of astronomy equipment is available for membership use and the latest edition is a solar filter for the Clark Refractor which allows viewing of the sun, sunspots, and eclipses.

MARINE TECHNOLOGY SOCIETY

The Marine Technology Society is one of only a handful of undergraduate clubs which have earned membership in the national society. One of the club's main goals is to educate the general student population about the marine environment and its effects on us as inhabitants of Earth. Through lectures, expeditions, tours, and ship visits, midshipmen have the opportunity to examine the marine world and what their role in it is. The club actively participates in educating the local community in naval roles in environmental awareness and shares the learning experiences in the Chesapeake with them. In addition to this, the club takes time to educate the oceanographers and those interested in the field in the real life applications that exist in the fleet and give hands-on experience in the field.

MATH Club

The Math Club at USNA exists to afford midshipmen the opportunity to expand their knowledge and appreciate the use of math in today's technical world. The Mathematics Club is open to all midshipmen, and is highly encouraged for all math majors. Several lectures are sponsored throughout the year which provide midshipmen with a broader insight into practical applications of mathematics in society.

CHEMISTRY Club

An affiliate of the American Chemical Society, the Chemistry Club exposes midshipmen to the opportunities available in the chemical profession, as well as the latest chemical research. Guest speakers allow the nearly one hundred members see how chemistry impacts our daily lives. In addition, midshipmen assist the Chemistry Department faculty with research projects, work at national laboratories and hospitals during the summer, judge local science fairs, and help with the Eastern College Science Seminar.

NAVAL ACADEMY FOREIGN Affairs CONFERENCE

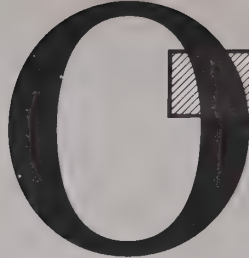

This year the United States Naval Academy presented its thirty-third in its series of undergraduate conferences on world affairs. Delegates from over one hundred and eighty colleges and universities and fifteen foreign countries gathered in Annapolis for four days of meetings, speeches and discussions of current global events. The title of the conference, "The Shape of Power" focuses on the ways in which power is defined and wielded in the international community. The conference has both a serious and a social side. In plenary session the delegates will hear speakers of international reputation. At other points they will attend a banquet, enjoy a picnic and take a tour by water of Annapolis harbor. NAFAC is the largest academic activity at USNA, with nearly 200 midshipmen participating each year. The roles midshipmen play range from delegates and moderators on round tables to coordinating all logistical support for the conference. The logistical support for NAFAC includes putting together the program, arranging housing for all the delegates, coordinating messing for everyone, and basically organizing every aspect of the conference. Unlike almost any other activity at the Naval Academy, the midshipmen plan and execute the majority of the conference.

CHURCHILL SOCIETY

The Churchill Society was founded to provide its members in the Brigade an opportunity to experience artistic, theatrical, musical, and literary events held in the immediate Annapolis-Washington-Baltimore area. This year the society sponsored a trip to the Kennedy Center to see Sheer Madness and an end of the year cookout, as well as published a newsletter of events at area colleges, museums, theaters, and concert halls. The organization is named for the REAL Winston Churchill, a popular turn of century American novelist and Graduate of the Naval Academy.

AIRBORNE TRAINING Unit

Only four units in the Navy are authorized to conduct airborne operations: the Navy SEALs, EOD, China Lake Test Center, and the Airborne Training Unit at the Naval Academy. ATU is more than an ECA, it is a high visibility military unit that conducts joint parachuting operations with the 11th Special Forces, the US Special Operations Command, Force Recon, Seal Team 2, the Navy Seal's Leap Frogs, Anglico, and various other high-profile units. Midshipmen run the unit themselves with the assistance of Major Nicholson, USMC, and the supervision of BMC Black (Spec War), USN. Members gain first hand experience with the intricacies involved in operating an actual military unit; from scheduling aircraft operations and coordinating medical support to maintaining life-dependent equipment, midshipmen are involved at every level. The unit is supported by its own midshipmen riggers who pack hundreds of chutes a year, and midshipmen jumpmasters who are responsible for operation safety. Additionally, ATU screens between 500-700 midshipmen annually for approximately 100 billets at Army Airborne School. Each year, dozens of midshipmen earn the gold wings of a Naval Parachutist, and hundreds more are given the opportunity to put their "feet and knees in the breeze."

SEMPER Fidelis SOCIETY

The Semper Fidelis Society gives midshipmen of all classes the chance to learn more about the Marine Corps while having a good time. The Club's activities include field training at Officer Candidates School at MBC Quantico, Virginia, Civil War battlefield tours like Ghattysburg, hand-to-hand combat training from Quantico's LINE Combat instructors, and weapons shoots at Naval Station Annapolis. This year Semper Fi also took part in a weekend joint field exercise with the members of the Corps of Cadets at West Point. Other activities include sponsoring lectures from guest Marines, hosting the yearly contingent of Camp Lejeune Marines for the October statics display, and supporting the annual cake-cutting ceremony for the Marine Corps birthday. The Club isn't just for those who definitely want to be Marines, but instead gives all members of the Brigade a chance to see and learn about the Corps while having a good deal of fun as well.

ORGANIZATIONS

Scuba Club

The purpose of the USNA Scuba Club shall be to promote and sponsor recreational diving as a sport by the following means:

(a) Provide a certified "Basic SCUBA" instruction program for the Brigade of Midshipmen through one of the following authorized national organizations: Y.M.C.A., P.A.D.I., N.A.U.I., S.S.I., or N.A.S.D.S. (b) Provide a means for qualified midshipmen to further enhance their diving abilities through a continuing program of advanced diving courses and necessary related instruction. (c) Provide a convenient and inexpensive means for midshipmen to acquire scuba equipment. (d) Organize qualification, training, and recreational club-sponsored dive trips.

Below: Yard Patrols then...

YARD PATROL SQUADRON

The Yard Patrol Squadron is the professional activity of the Department of Seamanship and Navigation. Its purpose is to provide midshipmen with a more comprehensive opportunity to develop fundamental seamanship skills and leadership techniques in a shipboard environment. The YP Squadron utilizes the 108-foot Yard Patrol craft to conduct operations on the Severn River and the Chesapeake Bay twice weekly during the fall and the spring. The YP Squadron conducts several weekend trips during each semester that allow the midshipmen to practice their skills in ports such as Baltimore, Philadelphia, and Norfolk. The YP Squadron also sponsors the Naval Academy Shiphandling Competition each spring, which is open to all members of the Brigade. The midshipmen who participate in the YP Squadron are given the opportunity to complete a Personnel Qualification Standard (PQS) program that allows them the chance to be designated as an Officer In Charge (OINC) of a small craft. The YP Squadron offers midshipmen an unparalleled opportunity to develop skills that will serve them well in the fleet, regardless of their service selection.

Surface Action Group

This year the Surface Action Group continued its tradition of exposing the members of the Brigade to the many aspects of the Surface Warfare community. Prospective SWOs of all classes were given the chance to expand their professional knowledge through visits to the various ships in the yard, with this year's biggest attractions being the H.M.S. BATTLAXE and the U.S.S. VIRGINIA. While the first class members chose their ships on Service Selection day, underclass SAG members provided administrative support in Smoke Hall to keep selection running smoothly and to get a look at how they would choose their ships in one or two years. The Surface Action Group will continue to serve the brigade to produce future Surface Warriors.

Dolphin Club

The Dolphin Club exists to increase the brigade's awareness of the submarine warfare community. It is mainly composed of midshipmen intending to select a career in the submarine force, but participation in the club's activities is open to anyone interested. The most significant event of the 1992-1993 academic year was the submarine heroes reception in November where the Dolphin Club honored decorated submariners from WWII. Among the many distinguished guests were Mr. Eugene Fluckey, medal of honor recipient and RADM William P. Houley, current Director of Test and Evaluation Requirements (N-091B). During the first semester, the Dolphin Club hosted a brief by the commandant, CAPT John B. Padgett III, about his experiences as a submarine commanding officer and as a submarine squadron commander. This broad spectrum of activities provides ample opportunity for midshipmen to meet both old and young submariners and to share with them a wealth of exciting fleet experiences.

SOCIETY of WOMEN ENGINEERS

The U.S. Naval Academy chapter of the Society of Women Engineers, open to engineers of all classes, gives students an opportunity to be part of a national professional organization dedicated to the advancement of women in engineering communities nationwide. The chapter sponsors lectures and visits to area high schools to promote engineering and sciences education for midshipmen and other young students. In conjunction with the other engineering societies at the Naval Academy, SWE helps to sponsor National Engineering Week. This is an annual event in which the various fields of engineering are recognized across the nation. Participation in this week is not limited only to engineers, the whole brigade is involved. This ECA gives engineers a chance to share their knowledge, griefs, and experiences with the guidance of an officer with an engineering background.

WOMEN'S PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATION

The Women's Professional Association (WPA) was started in 1988 to provide an opportunity for midshipmen, both male and female, to become more familiar with various career opportunities for female Navy and Marine Corps officers, their specific career paths, and the overall role of women officers in today's Navy. In the spring, representatives from the Naval Academy participated in the annual Corbin Seminar, which have approximately 100 participants from West Point, Air Force Academy, Coast Guard Academy and the Merchant Marine Academy. The seminar afforded the opportunity to discuss candidly the differences and similarities between academies as well as their strengths and weaknesses. In addition to the Corbin Seminar, WPA holds monthly meetings, publishes a newsletter with informative articles, and provides an internally generated "projected" service selection list to the first class women.

Ski Club

Skiing-- the sound of the winter wind whistling by as a pair of shiny skis slash down a snowy hill. What an excellent way for an Midshipman to escape the yard for some fun! The Ski Club allows the skiers to enjoy the slopes without worrying about anything except which trail to take. The Club staff handles all aspects of reservations, rentals, transportation, and tickets. Every Saturday after Christmas Leave, the Club heads for the Pennsylvania mountains. Members are entitled use of the ski storage/tuning room and access to the numerous ski movie showings on the yard. The Club has typically had more than 800 members and hopes to grow even more this season. CDR Rearden's assistance as OfficerRep was instrumental in the club's season. The ski Racing Team is a subdivision of the club that just started two years ago. Competition consists of slalom and giant slalom racing. With only dry-land training available during the week. The midshipman team was able to finish 4th in the Allegheny Ski Conference out of 11 schools last season. This qualified them for the Regional Championship.

TRIATHALON TEAM

In its first year of existence, the Navy Triathlon Team enjoyed official ECA status. Founded by Anthony Baker and Bob Moskal, the team is composed of athletes from various backgrounds. The team's officer representative, LT Mike Genereaux, and swimming coach Professor T.S. Michael guide the team in practice and competition. The sport is gaining interest throughout the Brigade. Former cross-country, swim team, and crew members are the team's core of excellent endurance athletes. The team competes in various triathalons and multi-sport races throughout the Mid-Atlantic region. The team's goal is to win the Inter-Service Academy Long Course Triathlon Championship held in Panama City, FL. The Air Force Academy currently holds the six-foot trophy, but NAVY-TRI is a strong contender for '94.

Aerobics

Aerobics meets daily and is run by midshipmen for midshipmen. Instructors are very dedicated to the cause and working in getting AAAI aerobics instructor certifications. The classes are almost always full and classes have just been getting better and better. We now offer now impact, medium impact, high impact and step classes. We will be ordering hand weights for the next year and expect classes even more diverse and exciting. If you are interested in a good hard workout, and you are not afraid to sweat, you have found the perfect sport in aerobics. All midshipmen are welcome and more than welcome to come when they do not have intramural or varsity sports.

COMBAT PISTOL TEAM

The USNA Combat Pistol Team is geared to the development of small-arms combat shooting technique. Our goal is to develop the sport of practical shooting at the Naval Academy. Practical shooting is being able to not only put your shots on target accurately, but with speed and power. A course of fire is an actual "problem" that the shooter must solve with physical as well as mental ability. Courses of fire contain shooter movement, combat magazine reloads, partially hidden targets, as well as moving and stationary targets. The goal of the shooter is to solve the course of fire as quickly and as accurately as possible. The team trains and competes with G.I. M1911 .45 caliber pistols using full power ammunition. We compete in matches in Maryland, Virginia, and Pennsylvania.

High Power Rifle TEAM

The U.S. Naval Academy High-Power Rifle Team gives interested midshipmen of all classes the opportunity to develop their marksmanship skills with match-grade M14 rifles. A myriad of support from Naval Station Annapolis' armory and range gives team members the chance to hone their skills before competing in local service rifle matches. Academic year competition in such places as Bridgeville, DE, and Quantico, VA as well as the August National matches at Camp Perry, OH, place midshipmen next to some of the most accomplished military and civilian shooters in the nation, an invaluable source of knowledge to team members. Prior experience ranges from as little as Plebe Summer marksmanship training to members of the Varsity marksmanship teams. But the challenge and excitement is the same for all when shooting a ten-round rapid-fire string from 200 or 300 yards, the concentration just as intense when squeezing off a round at a target 600 or 1000 yards away. Other team activities include coaching the Secretary of the Navy Rifle Competition each Spring and attending local gun shows. Team members learn and improve a vital military skill while having a great time.

TRAP AND SKEET

The United States Naval Academy's Trap and Skeet Team is in its fourth year of competition. This year the club acquired many new and skilled shooters. The team lost its first match of the season by a narrow margin to Army, but defeated Air Force. The team also competed against Army and Quantico early in the spring semester in addition to numerous teams at the Intercollegiate National Championships held in Atlanta, Georgia. An ordinary competition consists of shooting both trap and skeet. In trap, a shooter shoots at five different flying targets from five different positions for a total of 25 shots. In skeet, the targets are thrown nearly perpendicular in relation to the shooter, making leads on the birds more difficult. In both sports, the shooter scoring closest to 25 wins. The team is looking forward to another productive year in hopes of bringing the Intercollegiate National Title to the Naval Academy.

NATIONAL EAGLE SCOUT ASSOCIATION

The National Eagle Scout Association is made up of over 300 Eagle Scouts in the Brigade. As one of the more active ECA's at the Naval Academy, NESA has both service and recreational events planned for each year. Active with the Scout troops in the Baltimore-Washington, D.C. area, NESA sponsors an annual merit badge jamboree where NESA members spend the Martin Luther King, Jr. holiday camping with Scouts and teaching them various merit badges. Over 1000 Scouts attended this year's jamboree. The Tulane football game featured Scout Day, in which NESA members escorted troops for the day. In addition to these service activities, NESA members go on a variety of outdoor adventures: camping, rock-climbing, and whitewater rafting to name a few. The annual NESA dining-in brings distinguished guests such as the former Chief of Naval Operations, retired Admiral Carlisle Trost and CIA director Admiral Stansfield Turner.

SOCIETY of AUTOMOTIVE ENGINEERS

The Naval Academy Society of Automotive Engineers is one of the few professional societies open to all engineering students. SAE includes operations with all current forms of mechanically powered transportation. The society is used throughout industry as a means of achieving high standards of safety in the Aeronautical, Automobile, Railroad, and Trucking communities. Each year, the USNA chapter of SAE enters competitions in several areas of engineering applications sponsored by the national SAE organization.

INSTITUTE OF ELECTRICAL AND ELECTRONIC ENGINEERS

The Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers is one of the largest professional societies in the world. The local chapter at the Naval Academy provides midshipmen with the opportunity to join this National organization. The IEEE society is open to all majors. Some of the club's annual events include a project fair, an awards ceremony during commissioning week, and this year a majors end-of-the-year picnic which included the annual softball game against the faculty. The IEEE is a unique opportunity for midshipmen to become members of a National Engineering Organization.

AMERICAN SOCIETY of MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers is an organization founded in 1880 to set the standards in a field that was just emerging. The Naval Academy's student section is an active participant in contests and field trips. Meetings and lectures presented by the Baltimore chapter are there as another option for attendance to group functions. The club is mainly for Mechanical Engineering majors, but the trips and lectures can be equally appreciated by all engineering disciplines.

AMERICAN NUCLEAR SOCIETY

The American Nuclear Society seeks to educate the brigade on issues relating to the one energy source that will actually still be around in twenty years providing jobs for graduates. With a new administration, the nuclear debate was very fierce this year as the Academy's chapter of the society interacted through lectures and conferences with the politicians and professionals who determine or who hoped to determine the nation's energy policy. Hearing from representatives of all three of the presidential candidates from the '92 campaign, the members of the society are better prepared to anticipate the challenges of the upcoming decades and apply their engineering skills to solving many critical problems. As the firsties sail off into the only community in the Navy that glows without any external illumination, "Uncle Marty" will continue to inspire the midshipmen of the society to discover the fascinating and controversial world of nuclear science.

The American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics is a Professional society of engineers in the aerospace field. As a student chapter we have a wide variety of activities. These include MO's to such places as Goddard and to national aerospace conferences, construction of model aircraft, and traveling to hear local speakers. In addition, we are hosting the regional student AIAA conference this year at USNA. This event brings together students from many local colleges such as Penn State and Villanova, as we as Midshipman, to present projects they have been working on or the past year. These papers are judged by local experts in the aerospace field with the winners being published nationally. The Association for Computing Machinery (ACM) is a nation wide professional organization that promotes the advancement and publicity of computer science and other related fields of study. Founded in 1947, the ACM is dedicated to the development of information processing as a discipline, and to the responsible use of computers in an increasing diversity of applications. Although USNA's chapter is an academic ECA, membership is open the Brigade. The ACM represents Electrical Engineering and Systems Engineering as well as those in Computer Science.

SOCIETY of NAVAL ARCHITECS AND MARINE ENGINEERS

The Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers, (SNAME) has had a good year. Additionally, we had a very good turn out for a Regional meeting held at the USNA Officer's Club. Student Paper night, one individual or group presented the results of their independent research project to many important member in industry. Other less formal ventures included a specialized tow tank inspection which was conducted during the first semester. It was determined that the tank is in good condition, and that the water is very cold! Also another informal field trip was organized during Spring Break to see the PHM's in Key West. This was a very rare opportunity and was appreciated by those who attended.—The year has been filled with design projects, and labs, and even fun now and then. The Narcs have become a really close knit group, and will always remember the trials and tribulations of Naval Architecture at the Academy.—Many thanks to the excellent faculty and staff, for they are the ones who make Naval Architecture at USNA. Also, congratulations to I/C Plumptre and I/C Schmidt, who will be studying Naval Architecture at graduate school next year.

AMATURE Radio

The Amateur Radio Club (W3ADO), USNA's oldest standing ECA, has survived from the earliest days of radio to become one of the academy's most future oriented clubs. While the traditions of the radio service are still upheld, midshipmen Hams explore the world of high-technology communications. Whether with morse-code, computer transmissions, or through satellites, club members support the Academy around the world. Although asbestos removal and seventh wing renovation have kept the club out of its formal club spaces, Hams have temporarily found homage in Rickover's satellite dish control room and have regained full use of the electromagnetic spectrum. Use of the Hospital Point satellite dish has allowed midshipmen to talk with astronauts in orbiting space shuttles, converse with Hams via satellite, and even communicate with signals bounced off the moon. W3ADO maintains constant readiness to provide the community with emergency communications and is dedicated to experimentation in the interesting world of radio.

WRNV

"WE ROCK THE BOAT!" That's what you've been hearing this year, if you've been tuning in to WRNV 89.7, the Academy's FM radio station. Located in the 8th wing of Mother B, WRNV has become one of the most popular ECA's, with about 90 active members. The station has been around for literally decades. Over the years WRNV has seen many changes ranging from yearly staff turnovers, to frequency changes and equipment modernization efforts. WRNV offers the average midshipman, with little or no experience, the opportunity to go on the air and spin his or her favorite tunes. Each midshipman, usually in pairs, receives a two hour time slot in which to do their show. Many have become popular on-air personalities with the Brigade. WRNV is involved in a lot more than just broadcasting over the FM dial. Brigade support is our mission, and we have refined it to an art form. WRNV is responsible for providing music during home football games, DJing various dances such as the "N" Dance, the International Ball, Informal mixers in Dahlgren and various tale-gaiters. WRNV provided the sound support for the Gospel Choir's Spring Break Tour to Atlanta, Georgia and various spots in Bermuda. Service Selection is broadcast live each year on WRNV, giving firsties the up to the minute information they need. Oh, and let's not forget the spontaneous (planned) pep-rallies. This year WRNV received a complete face lift including a new paint job and wall to wall carpeting. Stepping in the front door of the station is like stepping into another world. WRNV's production team is hard at work learning how to use the state of the art production studio that has been assembled including sound effects processors and recordable compact disk technology. WRNV had a great year thanks to the staff with such notable firsties as Jeff Mulkey as our fearless Station Manager, Pete Corao as the "you break it, I fix it" Chief Engineer, Devin Deen as the Music Czar, and last and certainly least, Bruce Stanley as the Production Manager, who happens to be the only creative one in the bunch. WRNV will be sorry to see them go, but with tears in our eyes we will press on in our quest to produce a radio station that even mids can enjoy.

Sigma Pi Sigma

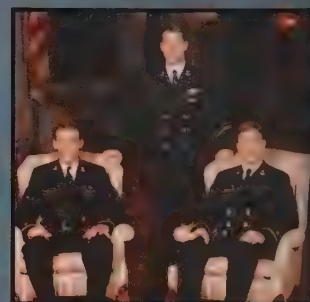

Sigma Pi Sigma is the physics honor society and is part of a national organization. Our club also consists of the Society of Physics Students, which unlike Sigma Pi Sigma, is open to anyone interested. (The honor society has academic criteria which must be met) The purpose of the combined organizations is to increase interest and awareness of the physics community by holding meetings, having guest speakers, and making field trips to nearby laboratories that involve physics. Two topics covered in presentations this year were: Physics applied to the Navy and Life on other Planets.

Phi Alpha Theta

Phi Alpha Theta is the International Honor Society in History. The Omega-Kappa chapter here at the Naval Academy is open to all midshipmen of all majors, and membership is offered for excellence in history classes and all around academics. Phi Alpha Theta has sponsored many interesting speakers, trips to museums, battlefields, and other historical sites. Additionally, some members are chosen to attend regional conferences where papers are read and judged.

Pi Tau Sigma

Pi Tau Sigma is the national mechanical engineering honor fraternity. Its members consist of the top mechanical engineering majors of the first class. The Fraternity focuses on developing interest in mechanical engineering and in science and technology in general. Pi Tau Sigma members host a plebe open house to provide information about the mechanical engineering program at the Naval Academy. Members also visit various elementary schools in order to encourage young students to remain interested in math and science. Pi Tau Sigma hopes to assure a future interest in mechanical

Phi Kappa Phi

Phi Kappa Phi is a multidisciplinary honor society committed to a constant observance of the injunction expressed in its motto, "Let the lost of learning rule mankind." Midshipman 2/c and 1/c are eligible. All majors are accepted, with the sole requirement being that the 2/c midshipmen stand in the top 3% of the class academically, and the 1/c midshipmen stand in the top 6% of the class academically. Because it is interdisciplinary, Phi Kappa Phi elects members from all recognized branches of academic endeavor, seeking thus to reward excellence wherever it can be identified in any institution that has a chapter of the Society. The Society has its origins in 1897 when ten seniors at the University of Maine, envisioning a society whose membership is open to the superior college student regardless of the academic discipline engaging him/her, were assisted by interested members of the faculty in organizing the Lambda Eta Sigma Society. The name was eventually to change to Phi Kappa Phi. As of the end of 1992, and the completion of the Society's 95th year, there was 205 chapters of Phi Kappa Phi scattered from Maine to Hawaii and the Philippines, and from the State of Washington to Puerto Rico. Well over a quarter of a million scholars have been initiated into the Society. The Naval Academy's chapter was chartered on May 9, 1977 and has initiated over 500 members since then.

REEF POINTS

The Reef Points Committee is responsible for editing and revising the annual edition of Reef Points for the incoming plebe class. The book is used as a learning tool during Plebe Summer, as well as during the Academic year. It provides updated information about Navy life, history, and traditions as well as for the Marine Corps. It is known as the "Plebe Bible". Don't leave home without it!!

TRIDENT CALNDAR

The Trident Calendar is a self supporting, non-profit ECA that has been at the Academy for over thirty-years. The Brigade of midshipmen submit the photographs that appear in the calendar. The staff compiles the calendar and then sells it to the brigade and the public. Selling calendars at home football games and through mail orders constitute most of the staff's work and keeps them busy most of the year.

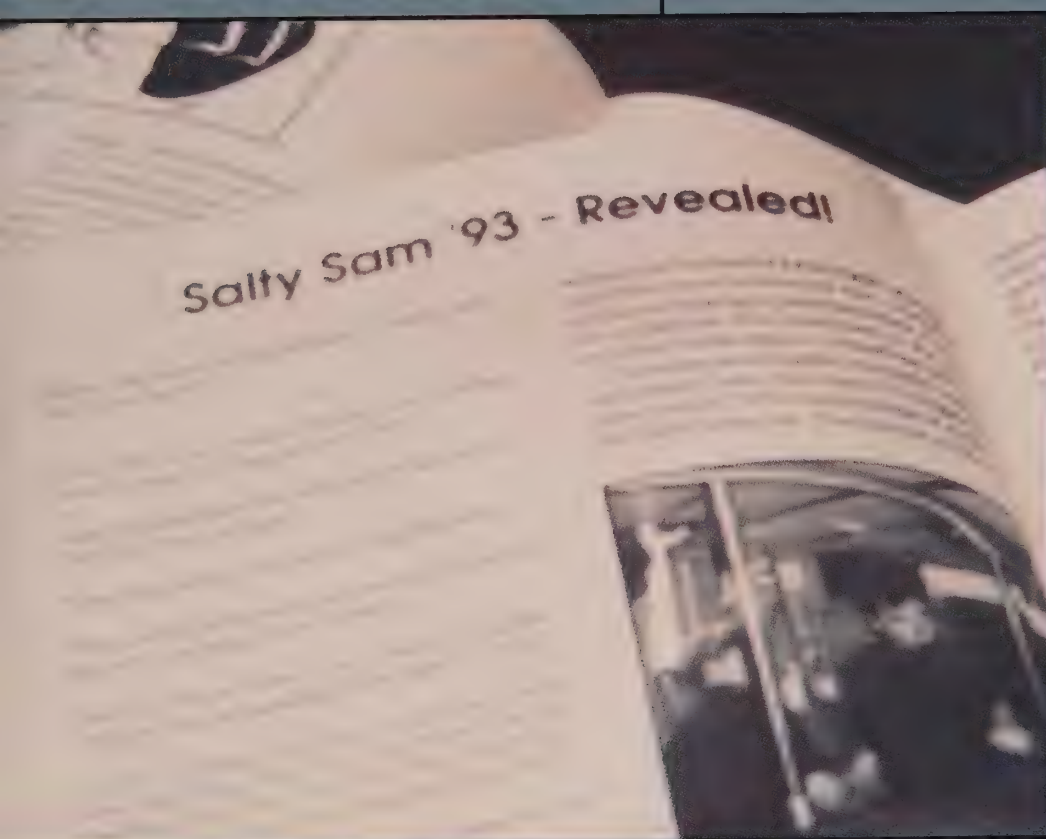

Log

The LOG is a monthly satirical magazine that pokes fun at life at the Naval Academy and the antics of the Brigade of Midshipmen, while providing an informal forum for the Brigade's artistic and journalistic talents. The LOG accomplishes this through literature (fact or fiction, serious or otherwise...mostly otherwise), photography, and artwork provided by the members of the Brigade or those who know us best. The core of the LOG, however, lies deep within the twenty or so members of the editorial staff headed by Denise Wolf, who put the LOG together each month. These are the people whose goal is to provide the Brigade with a mirror of itself and with an outlet for creativity, but without having a great deal of fun and laughter too!!

Lucky Bag

The Lucky Bag is the largest, all color yearbook in the nation. Putting this large book together is no easy task. The all-voluntary staff, headed by Editors Mike Favetti and Shaun McAndrew, worked on hard to deliver the 101st edition. This edition marks the 100th Anniversary of the publishing of our historic Lucky Bag. We on Lucky Bag staff, try to give a historical view of the past 100 years, while still keeping the traditional yearbook layout. Members of the staff gave up their Friday night, weekends, and leave periods to work on the book, knowing that all the hard work will pay off with the finished product. The staff presents this book to the Brigade and salutes the Class of '93. Fair winds and following seas. Good Luck to all.

A Look Back

THE impact of another year gone by marked by the many sacrifices, lead us to believe we have chosen the right path. The four year journey comes to a close as another class moves on to bigger and better challenges. This four year journey was not meant to be easy, it provided us with the everyday conflicts and decision making that is required of a leader. The sacrifice of leaving home, friends, family, and the freedom once enjoyed all helped us to achieve this dream. All who pass within these walls share in achieving this dream. Together we have struggled to the end, but now we are here, we find that the journey has only begun.

A Look Back

THERE are so many different ways to achieve a dream. We may not like them nor want to experience them, but knowing to make that choice, be it right or wrong, comes with the four years of learning. The path we have chosen may not be meant for all of us. There are those who left our ranks to follow a different path, but whatever path they have taken, they will always remember their time with us and we will remember our time with them. The many obstacles in our path are there to remind us of who we are and why we are here. We learned to test stress to the max and still have the compassion to help others before ourselves. Leadership comes in all shapes and sizes and no better place to find them than here.

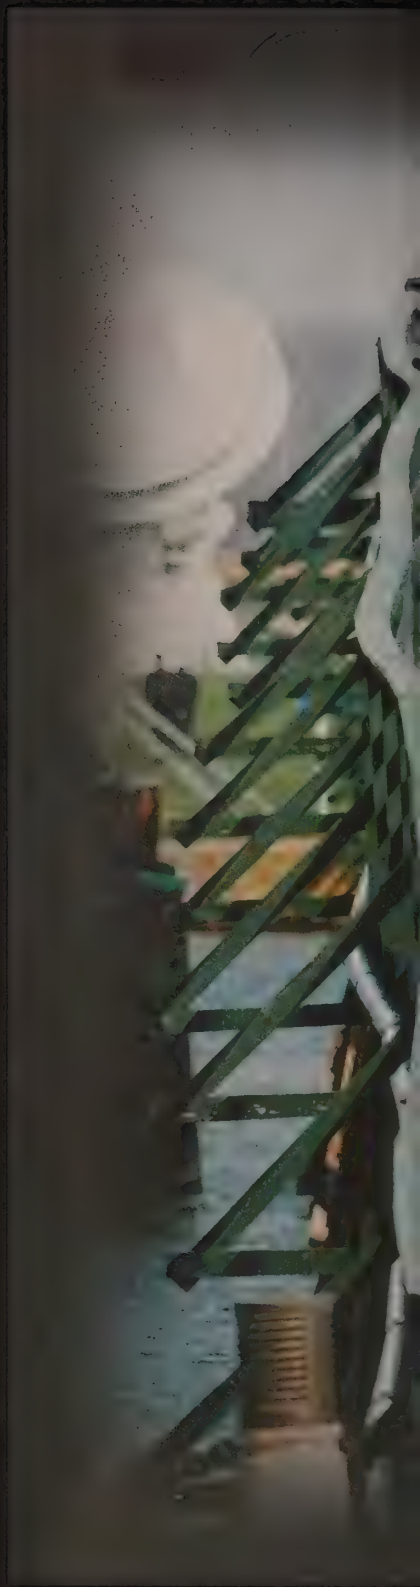

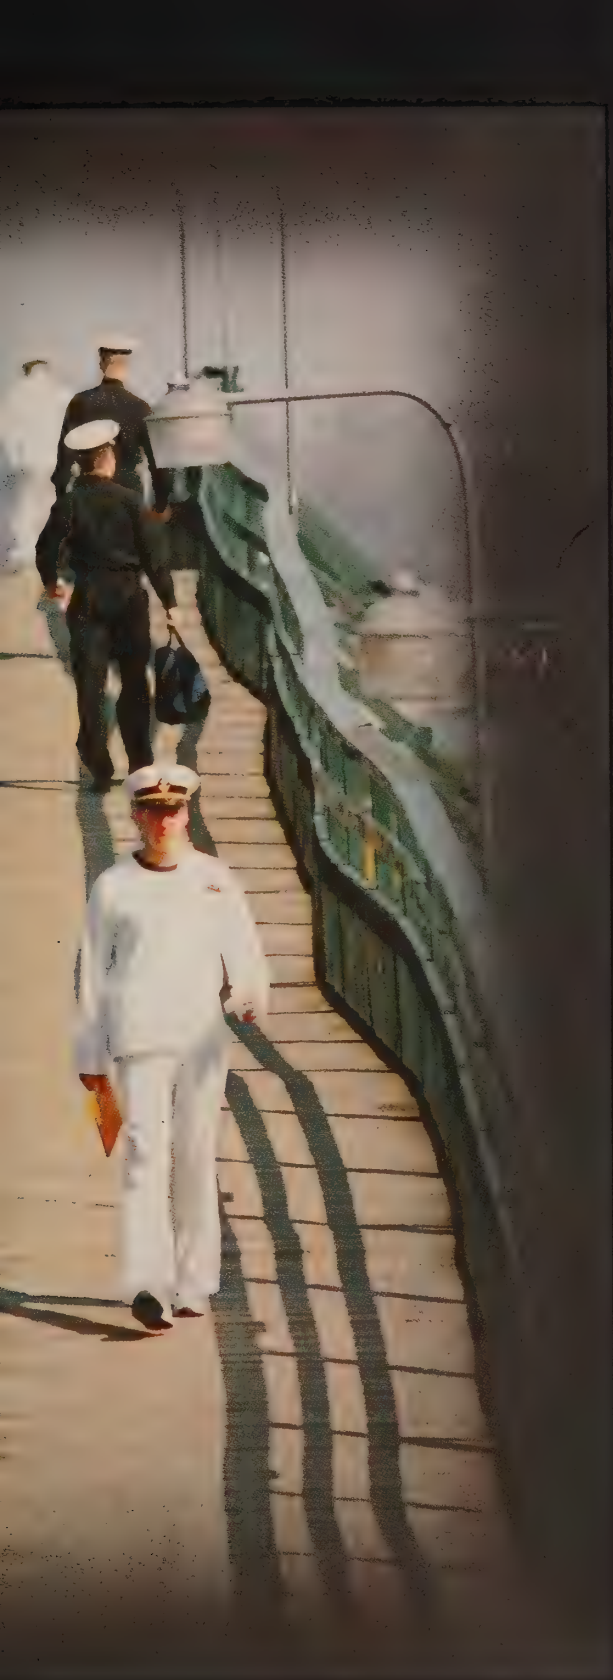

A Look Back

ALL of us have united to become one unit, a brigade of midshipmen all looking the same, acting the same and receiving the same education. But we are far from being similar. Each of us has our own identity, individualism that makes us unique. It is this uniqueness that strikes a balance between professionalism and compassion. We've learned to relax and take time out to appreciate the beauty that surrounds us in the midst of a highly mechanical, regimented world. We take the time to get to know others as well as our selves so that we may better understand them and their unique way of life.

A Look Back

ENDINGS all have new beginnings. While one class have reached their milestone in their journey, others have just begun their own. For them, the challenges that faced so many before now become theirs to meet and overcome with frenzy and determination. They will take part in and contribute to many of the experiences, both domestic and abroad. From the home ports to exotic lands, new surprises meet them at every turn. Here they will prepare for those surprises and sample the challenges. When it is their turn to look back and leap into the future, they will do so with confidence.

A Look Back

FOR those who completed this part of their journey, embarking on a new and much more exciting part, is only the beginning. The new and unexplored challenges are out there to be harnessed by each and every one of us. Midshipmen are not the only ones who move on to different places, meet different people and learn from others, officers also rotate around the Yard and to different duty stations to fill the requirement of the Navy and the Marine Corps. None will ever forget those that had an impact on our lives, as we also imparted on theirs. Change is good as each one brings new ideas and perspectives that can only enrich our daily lives.

A Look Back

MEMORIES of the life you shared with over four thousand of your peers is what you will remember in the years to come. Life is not always serious, there are times when the most insignificant incident brings humor to your day. From the squad tables at lunch to the movies in the wardroom, the comradeship of classmates and company mates will live on in the minds of those who leave us. Not only do we take these memories with us, but leave many memories behind. The impressions we left on the underclass will survive in the way they lead, the way they carry themselves and in the way they hold their values. The legacy of those that went before will live on through today and tomorrow.

A Look Back

SAYING good-bye is never easy, but saying hello is always a new experience. To those who have traveled far, we say "good-bye"; to those who just begun, we say "welcome"; and to both we say "good luck". We walk off into the sunset to begin our new lives knowing that we may fall along the way, but know to always get up and stand tall. We have made mistakes and corrected them, have felt the hurt and the healing. We have given of ourselves and returned in kind. We have experienced the past in the present hoping not much will change, but know they always do. We left our impression in the sands of time as others did before us. We have taken time out, taken

Congratulates the Graduates of the
Class of 1993

Colophon

The 1993 Lucky Bag was printed by Jostens Printing and Publishing at State College, Pennsylvania using offset lithography. The trim size of the Lucky Bag is 9 x 12, and it has a Smythe sewn binding. It contains 871 pages in two volumes and has a press run of 5200 copies of which 20 were presentation copies.

Cover: Cover design was drawn to the specifications of the Editor by Rick Brooks of Jostens. It is rounded and backed with black and white headbands. Black Matte Fabrikoid material was used for the cover with a quarter panel done in process color with a matte lamination, artwork by Rick Brooks. Entire cover was custom embossed using a special patterned die incorporating the Naval Academy seal and other art by Rick Brooks. Cover scorelines and lettering were embossed and debossed, respectively, with gold mylar foil. Black silkscreen ink was also used for embossing to register areas.

Endsheets: Josten's "Stone" print in black ink on heavy weight contempore stock. Printed on sides B,C,D,E,F & G of both volumes.

Colors: First class: pms 201 red, Year: pms 5605 green, Faculty and Chain of Command: process color parchmatte and pms 505 burgundy, Brigade: pms 268 royal purple, Sports: a mix of red, yellow, blue, Organization: pms 5425, grey/blue, Index/Ads, Opening, Closing and Division pages: Jostens Stone A, Stone B, Gold, History: process color parchment screened background in.

Typography: History, Opening, Closing, Division pages: AGaramond, First Class Section: ZapfChancery, Times, The Year Section: Present, Casper Openface, Times, COC/Faculty Section: Medici Script, Times, Brigade Section: Zapf Chancery, Times, Sports Section: Nuptial Script, Times, Organizations Section: Peignot Demi, Times, Index/Ads Section: AGaramond. Photos: Midshipmen portraits were taken by Yearbook Associates of Miller Falls Massachusetts. All photos were processed and printed by Yearbook Associates.

Advertisements: All advertisements were obtained by Julie Corneal of JCS Group Advertising.

Editor's Notes...

As many of you know (and for those of you who don't), I have developed a strange love/hate relationship with the yearbook since I started working on it when I was a plebe. I have poured countless hours into this project, as my parents and friends well know. I have at one time or another complained to everyone and anyone who would listen about what a huge pain this yearbook has been. Despite all this, I think it is one of the best experiences in my life. I'd like to thank those people who sacrificed their Friday nights and days of leave to help this yearbook become all that it has. And as they would agree, Jimmy Buffett said it best with "If we weren't all crazy, we would be insane."

Samantha Saxton: Sam, you really came through for me and the yearbook, putting its completion before your Naval career. I couldn't have asked for a better worker and eager learner. Thanks.

Kathrine Pruitt: Well, it's all yours now. I never said it would be easy, but I know you can do it. Good Luck and God Bless.

Ronald Karun: Ron, good times were had. I'm glad to have you as my photo guy. Too bad things didn't go well at the end, but I hope you remember the fun in the middle. Take care.

Shaun McAndrew: We never did get everything done that we said we would. I'm still not sure we got everything done that needed to get done. It is unfortunate you wouldn't stay the summer to finish it out. Good Luck though.

Eugene Bailey: A few last minute changes were necessary, but I think everything turned out well. Best of luck in your SWO/SEAL future.

Raissa Wilson: Gee Rai, we didn't get off to such a good start, but I think we saw things in the same light, even if it took us a while to figure it out. Sell a lot of books this year.

Andrea Myers: Andy, (I know I'm the only one who called you that) good pull on the year section. You showed real dedication. Now it's your job to keep Katie's head above water. I know you'll do it well.

Richard Dowdy: Rick, at the time I'm writing this, I think you're almost done with the sports. This was too close of a call. Please give Mauricio all the advice and help he needs.

Phillip Gordon: Thanks for all your help in sorting pictures, proofing sappy material and keeping me from going insane all during my TAD. I couldn't have done it without you! Thanks a million. -- sam

Bernard Owens: Bernie, the computer God at work everywhere, even up in the office! Never doubt your contribution to the book, you did more behind-the-scenes than you can imagine. Thanks and good luck. -- sam

Michael Hotek: Mike, thanks for being a friend all these years. You've always been there in the times of need, and saved my insanity once again. Thanks for driving all the way over just to help on the book. Good luck. :) -- sam

CDRR R. Williams: Sir, I tried my best to take on all of your sage advice. Of course, hindsight is better than foresight, so now I know what you were trying to tell me for so long. Thank you for the opportunity to run this my way and for providing the support and use of your bars along the way.

Pat DiGregrio: Thanks for everything, Pat. I've learned a lot through our long talks, and enjoyed every one of them. Best of luck to you and your family.

Phil Hoffman: The man behind the scenes, you saved our sports section once again. Thanks for all the great pictures and advice.

CAPT and Betty Fabry: CAPT, thanks for the words of encouragement and a much welcome BZ. Betty, you were spectacular. I am very glad I got to know you both. I hope we can keep in touch.

Mr. Potts: Once again, it was a pleasure. From the advice to the pictures, you were always just phone call away, especially for Rai. I can't thank you enough.

Myrna & the YBA Staff: Goodness, how many thousands of pictures did you guys print for us? I can't even begin to imagine. But this book wouldn't have been possible without your efforts. Thanks.

Mike Murphy: A great portrait photographer, you became a good friend. I hope you have the chance to come back down and enjoy Annapolis for yet another long, fun-filled season.

George Rosa III: George, what can I say. You've taught me a little about photography but a lot more about life. I am truly honored to claim you as one of my very good friends. Grotten is only a few short months away.

Karen May & Mass. YBA Staff: There are only so many ways to say thank you. Once again, you came through for us with about a zillion prints, reprints, & reprints-but-this-time-a-different-size. Hope to see you all soon.

Steve Kohn: Since you first taught me the computer three years ago, it has been a learning experience ever since. I can't express my gratitude for all that you have done for the book, the late night visits, tutoring and basic I-don't-know-what-to-do calls. I can see this project coming together this year based on the groundwork we laid. If anyone can make it happen, you can. You're a great guy, and Matt would be lucky to grow up just like you. Thanks a million.

Amy Larson: Thanks for all the new yearbook ideas, encouragement, and fun. We could really use some of your marketing skills. Good luck in your final year at Georgetown.

Janet Vincent: VEJ, you're truly one of a kind. Good or bad, I like it that way. I'm glad we kept in touch so much, otherwise I would never have figured out all the stuff with the book. Besides that business, you are a great friend. I hope we stay that way.

Finally, to my Parents: I love you more than words can say. You have given me support and guidance to persevere through all that I have. If I'm told that I'm a "chip off the old block", it's one of the greatest compliments I could receive. Thanks again.
